Referendum On McDermott Liquor License Law Is Officially Assured

Petitions Bearing 70,799 Names In Columbus, Sept. 20.—Official announcement was made at the office of Secretary of State Hildebrand today that there will be a referendum vote on the McDermott liquor license law this fall. The number of names required for a referendum is a few less than 68,000. Up to today referendum petitions bearing 70,799 signatures have been returned to the secretary of state. Petitions circulated in Frank and Hamilton and other counties, which are being examined by the courts here, but it is believed that these will cause of charges that they contain many irregularities, have not yet been returned to the secretary of state. When they are received they will add, according to estimates, about 15,000 names to the list now on file and approved. From all indications the prediction of Judge Frank H. Kerr, of Steubenville, manager of the referendum that there would be at least 85,000 names filed, found to be genuine, will be borne out. The petition for a referendum on the Sprague congressional redistricting bill has not yet received the necessary number of names, but it is believed that these will be supplied when all the county election boards which have completed examination of the petitions circulated in their counties.

DUMBA RESERVES PASSAGE ON BOAT

New York, Sept. 20.—It was learned today that Dr. Constantin T. Dumba, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador whose recall was asked by President Wilson, has reserved passage on the steamer Rotterdam which will sail from this port Tuesday, Sept. 28. The reservation was made today. The Rotterdam's port of destination is Rotterdam, Holland, whence the ambassador may travel through neutral territory into Germany and thence to Vienna. The Rotterdam will make on this trip her usual call at Falmouth, England, but it is assumed that the ambassador has received assurances through the United States government that his safety is guaranteed. Ambassador Dumba at last accounts was at his summer home at Lenox, Mass.

COOLER WEATHER IS PREDICTED

Washington, Sept. 20.—Cooler weather in the east is predicted by the weather bureau to follow in the wake of a storm this morning over Lake Superior.

Storm warnings were ordered for Lake Huron, eastern Lake Superior and all Lake Michigan except the southern portion. Rains south as far as the Ohio Valley region are expected to follow the storm which probably will pass out to sea through the St. Lawrence valley.

Pests I Have Met—By Van.

No. 31--The Explanatory Orchestra

Probably, there is but one place in the world that you run into this pest, and while it cannot be classed as a real honest-to-goodness pest, still that's the way it strikes me every time I come in contact with it, and I am quite sure that it is the majority of the people in the same way.

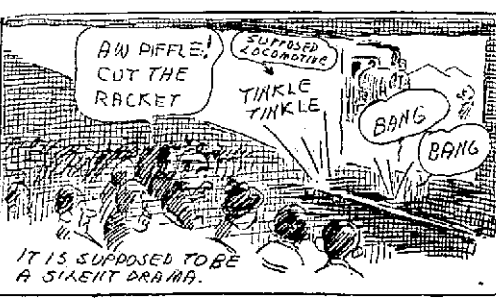

This pest, or I may say these pests are found in moving picture shows only.

Moving pictures are called by many silent drama. They are supposed to be silent—that's the reason they were invented, and that's the reason the talking moving pictures, introduced several years ago, fell by the wayside in a short time.

The average person likes moving pictures. They go in to see the action of the picture. Most of them have sense enough to know that a train sounds or how a horse sounds or how a bell sounds or how a door bell sounds or how a revolver shot.

But the orchestras in a number of moving picture houses I have been in evidently figure that all the everyday sounds are utterly foreign to everyone in their theatre, for they insist on trying to reproduce on bells, cymbals, triangles, pianos, fiddles and horns, noises that are made in every day business life.

The result is highly amusing at times. I have seen a number of fires in my time. Fires themselves make little noise—it's the people who are witnessing the blaze. But several days ago I witnessed a thrilling fire portrayed on a screen, and never before have I heard of any of the noises that fire made with the aid of the orchestra.

IT IS SUPPOSED TO BE A SILENT DRAMA.

Of course the orchestra has a way of reproducing a revolver shot, a horse running, etc., but invariably their reproduction is either a trifle too early or late. And this is the case with the majority of their other noises.

Instead of moving pictures in many places being Silent Drama they are about as noisy as a thrilling melo-drama or wild west production.

ITALIAN VOLCANOES ARE ACTIVE

Paris, Sept. 20.—Multiple eruptions of the Italian volcanoes are now occurring, says a dispatch from Rome. Vesuvius, Aetna and Stromboli are all active, a singular phenomena never before recorded. None of the eruptions, however, is of a character to cause alarm.

CHICAGOANS GO TO CAMP

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Six hundred business and professional men from Chicago and other Middle-West cities laid aside their civilian clothes today for the uniform of the United States army. They started a month's course in military training at the training camp established at Fort Sheridan. The course will continue until October 17. The students are men from all ranks of life. The business world was the largest contributor, but there were many doctors, lawyers, engineers, school teachers and dentists among the "rookies." Mayor William H. Thompson said he had planned to join the camp on Friday.

Colonel W. J. Nicholson, colonel of cavalry, commanding Fort Sheridan, is in charge of the camp.

BUILD BIG CANNON TO USE AT EXPO

San Francisco, Sept. 20.—Construction of a cannon 150 long and six feet in diameter was begun today at the Panama-Pacific exposition under the supervision of the United States bureau of mines. The big gun is to be used in connection with the celebration of mining week which began today and will be used to demonstrate how mine dust explosions occur. The gun was loaded with coal dust which will be fired by the explosion of a small calibre cannon inside the big gun.

LEAVES CONVENT FOR THE FOOTLIGHTS

Miss Mary Carroll.

Miss Mary Carroll was a student at a convent when at eighteen she determined to enter upon a stage career. Against the protest of the nuns she became an actress. She has been successful in smaller cities, and this season has been engaged for the leading part in "Rolling Stones" at one of the principal New York theaters.

ARCHIBALD BACK, TO GO TO CAPITAL

New York, Sept. 20.—James F. Archibald said: "I do not know anything about the situation here. If there pondent, who was intercepted by British authorities while carrying a message from Dr. Constantin Dumba, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador, arrived here today on the liner Rotterdam. Several secret service men boarded the Rotterdam at quarantine early today, immediately went to Archibald's stateroom and questioned him for some time. The secret service men are reported to have searched Archibald, his baggage and the stateroom, and to have taken away a cane belonging to the correspondent. Archibald denied this and would not admit having even talked to secret service men. After leaving quarantine Archibald then said he would issue a long statement after landing. As he walked down the gang-plank, however, he met a man he described as his secretary. The man said he had searched Archibald, his baggage and the stateroom, and to have taken away a cane belonging to the correspondent. Archibald then announced he would defer the issuing of an additional statement. He said he expected to go to Washington soon, but other than that had no plans.

CARRANZA OCCUPIES TORREON

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 20.—The occupation of Torreon by the Carranza forces under General Obregon, was underway today according to unofficial reports. It was said aeroplanes flew over the city in advance of the troop trains. General Villa retired from the city yesterday, owing, it was said, to lack of provisions.

13,000,000 ATTEND EXPO.

San Francisco, Sept. 20.—Attendance at the Panama-Pacific Exposition has reached the 13,000,000 mark, it was announced today. The average daily attendance since the exposition opened has been 61,311. The thirteenth million visited the exposition within the last two weeks.

RIVER CAPTAIN DIES

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 20.—Captain John Male Martin, 59, for more than thirty years one of the best known steamboat men on the Ohio, Kanawha and Mississippi rivers is dead at his home here.

BIG LOAN WON'T BUY WAR MUNITIONS

New York, Sept. 20.—The largest underwriting syndicate the Western world has ever known, was in process of formation today to handle the proposed "billion dollar" credit loan to Great Britain and France, which has now abated, it was reported, to a sum yet to be determined, between $600,000,000 and $800,000,000.

This mammoth syndicate, according to tentative arrangements said to have been agreed upon, will be nationwide in its character and will comprise national and state banks and trust companies from the Atlantic to the Pacific. A number of so-called pro-German financiers, it was reported, will join the syndicate if it is finally agreed that the proceeds of the big loan shall be available only for commodity exports and not for munitions of war.

The price at which this syndicate will put out the British and French government bonds which will be issued to secure the loan will be par. The bonds will pay five percent interest and will be a first mortgage upon the entire British empire and France and her colonies. All other obligations of the two nations will be subordinated to the proposed big bond issue here. Even the staggering sums raised by bond issues at home, with which the war has been carried on, will come second to the loan to be floated here when the time comes to pay the principal.

For the first time in history, the English pound sterling has yielded first place in international finance to the American dollar in this respect. The whole big issue of bonds will be payable in American dollars, principal and interest.

For generations past, Great Britain's bonds have been payable only in sterling.

The bonds will run five years, or ten, it is not yet known which.

In agreeing to have the issue handled by an underwriting syndicate the Anglo-French financial commission, whose errand here is to establish the loan, apparently has deferred to the views of American financiers, the original intention of the commission having been reported to provide for general subscription to the bonds without the underwriter as a middle man.

As soon as the definite terms of the proposed loan have been agreed upon in their entirety, bank and trust companies throughout the country, it is understood, will be invited by a general announcement, to become parties to the syndicate of underwriters. It is not yet known how many such banks will be asked in—but it is regarded as certain that the membership of the syndicate will consist of hundreds of institutions and possibly thousands.

These banks will be given a small profit to the transaction, somewhere in the neighborhood of one-half of one percent, it is believed.

FINANCE MINISTERS OF POWERS MEET

Paris, Sept. 20.—Pierre L. Bark, Russian minister of finance, arrived in Paris today and conferred with Alexandre Ribot, French minister of finance. They will subsequently meet Reginald McKenna, British chancellor of the exchequer, either here or in London.

At these conferences the financial problems of the Entente powers are to be taken up.

BOAT BRINGS CREW

New York, Sept. 20.—The steamer Sixnola arrived today from West Indian ports with Captain M. L. Jamieson and eight of the crew of the schooner Florence M. Penley, which was recently abandoned at sea, 450 miles south of Flatteras in a sinking condition. The Penley was bound for Baltimore from Rio Janeiro.

WITNESSES OF BATTLE REACH N. Y.

New York, Sept. 20.—A handful of persons who saw the first Zeppelin raid over the heart of London, on the night of September 8, reached New York today aboard the steamship Orduna with thrilling stories of the fight in the sky between the invaders and British aircraft and other details of the damage inflicted which had hitherto been suppressed by the British censor.

There were said to be three Zeppelins in the fleet although those who told the story today had seen but one. They circled over the theatre and hotel district of London, dropping explosive and incendiary bombs. One of the latter, it was said, destroyed by fire an entire block of warehouses within five minutes walk of St. Paul's Cathedral. Several bombs according to the eye-witnesses, fell near three hospitals in a cluster, the central one of which was the Ophthalmic hospital, full of wounded soldiers.

All three buildings were rocked to their foundations and not a pane of glass was left intact. The patients had to be moved into the street where they lay for hours on

ATTEMPT TO SLIP FROM IRON RING

Berlin, Sept. 20.—Germans are pursuing the Russian army which is attempting to escape from the enveloping movement in the Vilna region. The Russians are offering little resistance to the advancing Germans.

London, Sept. 20.—The Russian army moved, since the fall of Vilna, by the German encircling movement is estimated variously, at 250,000 to 500,000 men. The conditions under which the Russians are attempting to extricate themselves furnish a striking parallel to those who followed the capture of Warsaw. They may precipitate one of the greatest, if not the greatest battle which has been fought on the eastern front. Although no official confirmation has been received in London from Petrograd this morning of the fall of Vilna the British press has accepted the German claim readily in view of the situation that had been developing.

Concern is expressed for the retreating Russian forces. So far as can be judged, Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's troops have flung a

STEAMER IS BURNED, ONE LIFE IS LOST

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 20.—The Greek steamer Athina was destroyed by fire at sea with the loss of one life, according to a message received by the marine department today. The steamer Tuscania rescued 408 passengers and crew and the steamer Romanian Prince 61 others. The message from the Tuscania, dated at 7 a. m., today and was the first official word received from the liner, since the wireless report last night that the Athina was afire and the Tuscania had rescued the passengers. The origin of the fire was not stated in the message which read:

"Distress call at 8:30 a. m. yesterday. Arrived on spot at noon and sent line across to help them. Transferred passengers about 4 p. m. Athina was abandoned about 8:30 p. m. We rescued 408 passengers and crew and the Romanian Prince rescued 61. There was only one life lost, that of a man who jumped overboard. We left the wreck burning fiercely in number one and two holes at 10:30 p. m. Position latitude 40.54 north; longitude 54.47 west.

The Athina sailed from New York last Thursday for Greece. She carried 61 first, 47 second cabin and 213 steerage passengers. The others on board were members of the crew. The cargo consisted of considerable quantities of flour, coffee, cotton, rice and lubricating oil.

The Athina was 6,742 tons gross and had an average speed of 16 knots. The vessel was owned by the National Steam Navigation company of Greece.

HOW TO HANDLE MEN

Superintendents and foremen in the plants of the Excelsior and Irving Drew shoe companies will be the guests of the Superintendents and Foremen's Association of the Selby Shoe company at a special meeting, which will be held at 7:15 tonight in the old Excelsior building on Gallia street west of Sinton. Walt S. Goodwin, a noted orator of New York, will be present and will deliver an address on "How To Handle Men." The meeting promises to be well attended as Mr. Goodwin will have an interesting message to deliver to his audience.

Enter College

Charles Beatty, son of Judge and Mrs. T. C. Beatty, of Ninth street, and Joseph Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Jones, of Twelfth street, left Monday for Columbus, to enter the dental department of the Ohio State University. The two boys will room together during the college year.

Over 900 Names On Petitions For The Sunday Movies

Initiative petitions calling for an election on the Sunday moving picture ordinance were filed with City Auditor Gableman late Monday afternoon, although under the law they could have been filed up until Wednesday of this week, in order to bring the matter before the November election. The number of signatures required is 522 while the petitions contain over 900 names.

The petitions, under the law, will be kept on file with the city auditor for a period of ten days, at the end of which time the city auditor turns them over to the deputy supervisors of elections. Contrary to the general impression, the city council is not called on to act and does not even have to bring the petitions before that body, although if council would pass the ordinance there would be no election. It is understood, however, that the moving picture owners will not present the matter to council at all, as they take the position that the matter is one for the whole people to pass on and that this may be done at the general election at a cost of only the two or three dollars necessary to print the ballots.

FINE N. & W. RECORD

N. & W. circles are talking about the great record which was made the past year by the dispatching department and the train crew in charge of Time Freight No. 84, Columbus to Williamson. In the year from September 11, 1914, to September 11, 1915, No. 84, went into Williamson on time every day except two. These two were excusable delays, one being caused by the caving in of tunnel No. 4, blocking the road and the other was the wreck near Wheelersburg which blocked the road for many hours.

Supt. J. T. Carey was especially pleased with No. 84's record and in a letter to Dispatcher R. S. Kyle, who had charge of the train, commended him highly for the manner in which the train had been handled in his department.

A Dangerous Fancy.

Mrs. Mose Cox, of Columbus, has appealed to the mayor to release her nephew, Dewey Cox, from the Cincinnati workhouse. She says he is only a boy and his taking a gun was more a foolish fancy than any real intention of violating the law. She says his mother is dead. The appeal may be granted.

THEATRICAL

"Globe Trotters" At the Sun

"The Globe Trotters," a pleasing aggregation of girls, comedians, songs, dances, etc., are the present attraction at the Sun theatre, opening a week's engagement with today's matinee.

Last week playing Charleston and Huntington the company was so well liked that they played to overflowing houses and gave good satisfaction.

During their engagement they will present three miniature musical comedies. Tonight and tomorrow will be "Daddy," Wednesday and Thursday "The Rhymer" and Friday and Saturday "The New Butler." All of them will be appropriately costumed and with a number of good singing and dancing numbers and with several lively comedians the show should prove a big drawing card at the Sun.

In addition to "The Globe Trotters" you have three reels of perfectly projected photo plays. The picture program for tonight is a two reel Biograph "Loris Melady" and a one reel Selig "The Tiger Club." Pictures are changed daily. Come tonight and see the biggest show ever offered in Portsmouth for ten cents and you will come again.

Kathlyn Williams and Five Reels of Pictures, Columbia Tonight

A most excellent program is offered at the Columbia tonight, the headliner of which is a thrilling three-reel wild animal picture featuring Kathlyn Williams, whom everybody remembers for her excellent work in "The Adventures of Kathlyn."

The great three-reel picture is entitled "The Strange Case of Tildan Land," and was written by Miss Williams herself. The theme is of the building of a city, and the story is told around the life and adventures of a woman, and the life of the lander Tildan. Williams is superbly teamed with a for "The Eternal City" opens tonight. Be sure and secure your seats for this great nine-reel masterpiece, which will be shown on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Only two shows each day, matinees at 2:00 and evenings at 8:00, and all seats reserved.

"The Eternal City" At Columbia Wednesday and Thursday. Seats Now On Sale.

The motion picture adaptation of Hall Caine's amazing story, "The Eternal City," produced in Italy and England by the Famous Players Film company, marks a new era in dramatic pictorialization.

Under the direction of Edwin S. Porter, producing manager of the Famous Players Film company, and Hugh Ford, a carefully selected company, headed by Pauline Frederick, was sent abroad to film this masterpiece in the exact locale in which its stirring action occurs. All the scenes in the Vatican Gardens, the Castle of St. Angelo, the Coliseum, the famous Roman Forum, the beautiful Villa D'Est in Tivoli and other historical spots in the Imperial City, were reproduced with the consent of the highest ecclesiastical and civil authorities. All the costumes of the Noble Guard of the Roman Pontiff, of the Swiss and Municipal Guards, were made after specimen costumes of these organizations loaned by the highest sanction. It is the first time in the history of motion pictures that these unprecedented liberties have been granted. Messrs. Porter and Ford also succeeded in securing the services of thousands of a Roman Carabiniere and have immortalized with absolute perfect detail every phase of Hall Caine's wonderful story. The production is on an order of sumptuousness that realizes all the possibilities of the play from a scenic, sartorial and acceSSIONAL standpoint.

The manner in which the pope is introduced as a visible personage falls to offend the most critical, and the dignity and nobility which are inseparably associated with him have been faithfully preserved. With its unusual environment and its historical significance, the production presents a thrilling combination of realism and romance.

No summary of bare facts could adequately describe the historical accuracy and dramatic integrity of "The Eternal City." When the impressive and climactic theme of Hall Caine's master-work was first presented to the public as a novel, the emotions of the world were stirred by the beauty, the nobility, and the human tragedy of the remarkable plot. Within an incredibly short time the novel became one of the most widely read and discussed books of modern literature, and this astounding popularity resulted in the dramatization of the story, which was further encouraged by the tense dramatic construction of the book. The play was universally received with an overwhelming degree of appreciation, and will be recorded in theatrical annals as one of the foremost artistic successes of the present dramatic epoch. The pictorial version of this celebrated subject presents the thrilling incidents and climaxes, the romance and tragedy, the elements of love and betrayal, suffering and sacrifice, and the beautiful ideals and humanities of the original plot, with a wider range, in finer colors, and with subtler strokes, than were possible in the novel or play, and will therefore render the interpretation of its greatest measure of humanity.

The company selected for the interpretation of the plot is an exceptionally strong one. Pauline Frederick, as the heroine, attains a faithful and a most impressive conception of the arduous and impetuous journey, but tender and magnetic qualities of Donna Rean, and particularly the sacred role with incomparable charm and grace. Thomas Holding dignifies and ennobles David Rossi, the idealist, and the devoted lover of Roma. Frank Losce delineates the villainies of Baron Bonelli with effective subtlety. Fuller Melish, in his physical aspects and convincing strength and pathos, admirably takes the part of his Holiness, Pius XI, and George Majeroni makes Doctor Roselli, political reformer and exile, a sympathetic and patient character. The minor roles are all portrayed artistically and skilfully.

Marguerite Clark At Lyric Tomorrow. Admission 10c

"Seven Sisters," the celebrated comedy success, adapted for the American stage by Edith Ellis Furness, and presented for several seasons at the Lyceum theatre in New York by Daniel Frohman, tells the amusing story of the widow of an army officer in a small garrison town in Hungary, who has seven daughters, ranging from seven to twenty-two. According to the Hungarian system of marriage, the daughters must be wed in the order of their age, and the younger ones must be kept in the background until the older ones are disposed of. Miei, portrayed by Miss Clark, the fourth in matrimonial eligibility, rebels against the system and falls in love with an ardent young lieutenant. The duty devolves upon the lieutenant of finding suitors for the three older girls, who stand in an expert pianist from Lexington.

The way of his marriage to Miei. The three whom he thus leads unsuspectingly to their fates are a jealously inclined colonel, a phlegmatic lieutenant and a meek young university student. His conspiracies, however, involve all three pairs in trouble, for the young people show symptoms of not clinging to the sweethearts selected for them. Finally the lieutenant's calculations are completely upset by Miei's eleventh hour refusal to marry him. How these sentimental problems are solved is humorously unfolded in the photoplay. As Miei, Marguerite Clark is altogether delightful. Her frankness, her witfulness, her quaint philosophy and irresistible girlishness make the role completely captivating.

The Exhibit

Tonight's offering at the Exhibit is the great Fox production "The Girl I Left Behind Me," a great spectacular drama by David Belasco.

In producing the screen version of this first and greatest success of David Belasco, neither effort nor money has been spared. The scenes of the play are laid in and around a lonely frontier army post in the old Indian days, and in order that the vivid atmosphere of the piece be retained to the fullest extent the entire company was sent to Fort Assiniboine, Montana.

There amidst the rugged western scenery, with real cavalry troops and with real Indians the scene of this virile military drama were enacted for the camera.

Robert Edeson, who has been secured to play the lead, is universally known to the theatre-going public as the star of many Broadway successes.

As Lieutenant Hawksworth in the present production, Mr. Edeson has a part well fitted to his exceptional abilities, and the dashing manly courage with which the young officer meets the many difficulties and dangers that confront him make a way for him into the heart of the spectator as well as into the heart of the heroine, who is most charmingly talented leading lady of the William Fox Stock company.

"The Miller," another Fox production at this theatre, Tuesday.

At Temple Theatre

"The Diamond From the Sky," chapter 12. Easter goes back to the Gypsy tribe of which Hagar is queen, but fails to find the wealth. The dramatic action in this chapter is great. The big Thanet house feature that will be run in connection with the "Diamond" is well worth the admission charged. The title is "A Message Through Flames." See the big western express train thundering down the track and a little girl throw the switch to let the freight slip in the siding in time to save the big passenger train. It is a tale that plays a tune on your heart strings.

At the Strand

The great two-reel Newcomedy "Behind the Screen," a riot of fun at Universal City, featuring Eddie Lyons, Victoria Forde and Lee Moran, assisted by best players from other Universal companies, will be the headliner at the Strand tonight.

In this big comic you see a picture within a picture. These films show the inside of the actors' life before the unerring camera, and is a succession of laughs from first to last.

"What Might Have Been" a soul stirring imp drama features Wm. J. Welch, Frances Nelson and Wm. J. O'Neil.

Tomorrow's feature will be the "Mad Maid of the Forest," a Bison two reel drama of the west with Gene Gauntier and Jack Clarke.

At The Majestic

Four reels of high class pictures are on the program at the Majestic theatre tonight. Both of the pictures are features and come from producing companies that are the best in the world. "Court House Crooks" is the title of a Keystone comedy that is one of the best pictures ever offered in the city. Ford Sterling is the actor taking the leading role in this picture. This is a two reel production and there are a million laughs in every inch of it.

"Mountain Mary" is the title of another two reel production that is also bound to be entertaining. Vivian Rich and Joseph Galbraith are making the leading parts in this picture. It is a gripping two reel drama of the forest.

At the Arcana

"Where Can I Get a Wife" is the title of a comedy that is one of the attractions at the Arcana tonight. "The Maid of the Mist" is another attraction that adds materially to the bill. It is a drama of the hills with pretty and vivacious Pauline Bush taking the leading role.

"The Other Girl" is the title of the two reel dramatic feature tonight. Lillian Hamilton and Fred Church two exceptionally clever actors are taking the leading parts. Don't fail to see this general all around good bill at the Arcana tonight. There will be plenty of heart throbs and comedy all together. Both the young and old can be entertained.

KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat; but drink plenty of good water. Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and not enough food that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the kidneys to do damage to the blood. It is the uric acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually filling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called Rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal position, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia salt. It is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

PROSECUTOR "COMES BACK" IN CONTROVERSY

SAYS COMMISSIONERS ARE ONES TO BLAME

Induction into office of the new board of county commissioners Monday afternoon was marked by a vehement attack on the retiring president of the old board, William Bennett, by Prosecuting Attorney Joseph Mickelthwait, in answer to Mr. Bennett's charges against him, published in Saturday's Times.

Mr. Mickelthwait made no attempt to hide his feeling toward Mr. Bennett, and openly characterized his charges as a feeble effort to hide his own shortcomings as a public official.

The prosecuting attorney made his speech immediately after the new board had been sworn into office and had effected a permanent organization. He said:

"I must confess that I was not at all surprised at the action of Messrs. Bennett and Egbert, Saturday. However, my first intimation of their action during my absence from the city came through the papers.

"Some ten days ago Mr. Bennett came rushing into my office about noon exclaiming that he had been indicted and that the C. & O. Northern contractors had ruined the roads of the county and that he had just met one of them with a tractor engine on the Sciotoville pike. He said the people were blaming him for the condition of the road and he wanted to do something before he went out of office. He also said, if possible, he wanted to have them arrested. I tried to reason with him, but in vain.

The new road law had taken effect on the 5th of September. I think it was about the 10th that he called at my office. The new law made it a criminal offense to drive tractors with lugs or chains on the tires over the roads. I explained to him that while technically these parties were guilty, yet they no doubt had not intentionally violated the statute, as I know Mr. Bennett never heard of it until then. Later I heard that because they did not pull out and give him the road he had them arrested. They waived examination and were bound over to the Grand Jury. Bennett was to appear before that body on Wednesday last and prosecute, but for some reason he failed to show up and I did not hear anything of him until the action of the Board on Saturday.

"I might say that in this connection that as early as July I advised Mr. Bennett that it was my opinion that suit could be maintained against the contractors for any injury they did to the roads and the proper proceeding was to have the Board pass a resolution authorizing the prosecuting attorney to commence suit against the C. & O.

Northern contractors for damages. I also told him if the roads were being injured, as he claimed, by the use thereof, that as County Commissioner, the responsibility of the care, maintenance and protection of the roads of his district was upon him. In view of the fact that he had full knowledge of the alleged injuries it was his duty to call the matter to the attention of the board of commissioners, and that they should pass a resolution upon his representation, authorizing such action to be taken as the prosecuting attorney deemed best. At that time he wanted to retain Judge Blair to prosecute the cases. I told him it would be a mistake to have Judge Blair employed, because as he knew and everybody else well knew that the Judge's unpopularity with the juries of the county would do the case more harm than good. I afterwards spoke to him about having the board take some action and he then had the board to pass a resolution limiting the damage to twelve thousand, five hundred pounds. The board recommended substantially an old regulation that had been enacted by a former board when Mr. Charles Worley was commissioner. I understood that he has several hundred of these printed now with his name on them.

The action of the board Saturday was a very poor effort, indeed on the part of Mr. Bennett to try and square himself with the people before leaving office of the conditions of the roads and contracts over which he, as commissioner, had control.

This question, why did not Mr. Bennett do as the commissioners of Pike county, by insisting upon the railroad company restoring the roads of this county in as good condition as they were at the time of the commencement of the construction of the railroad.

"The present condition of the roads in Scioto county speak far more of Mr. Bennett's gross incompetency as a public official than anything I can say."

Mr. Bennett was present during the entire speech, and at the conclusion, asked for the privilege of making a short reply, which was granted him. He said:

"Gentlemen, the fine evidence to which Mr. Mickelthwait referred, was printed under his direction. As to the charges that I have been incompetent, I can only say, that while I may have made mistakes, I have always tried to serve the public to the best of my ability.

Mr. Mickelthwait says that I was not present to appear before the grand jury to testify against the C. & O. Northern contractors. Court attaches will bear me out in the statement that I sat by the door for several minutes waiting to be called. I also told Mr. Mickelthwait that I would be willing to come to the court house at any hour he might designate to testify.

"Mr. Mickelthwait came out of the grand jury room at one time and whispered to me, 'Bill, I'll bring those suits all right before you are out of office.'"

"As to the statement that I wanted to employ Judge Blair to assist the prosecutor, it is not true. Judge Blair's name was never mentioned at any of our meetings in this connection. The board did suggest at one time that Mr. Mickelthwait employ his law partner, Edgar Miller, to assist him in bringing the suits."

John Sadenfeld, a bartender at Joe Distel's place, was obligated as a member of the Bartenders' Union at that local's regular meeting, Sunday.

Helps TO DIGESTION

Whatever improves bodily conditions in general aids digestion. Cheerfulness, exercise, fresh air, baths and good habits make your digestion better able to take care of any burdens you impose upon it. But the greatest aid to good digestion is good blood. Anemia, or thin blood, is a common cause of indigestion. Normal action of the stomach is impossible without healthy, well-oxygenated blood.

Dyspepsia which does not yield to ordinary treatment may be quickly corrected when the blood is enriched. Many people have sought relief from chronic indigestion by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which make the blood rich and red, capable of carrying an increased amount of oxygen, the great supporter of human life.

Have you ever seriously considered giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial to tone up your digestion, increase your vitality and make life better worth living? If your blood is thin and your digestion weak you certainly need them. Send for a diet book. It is free and will help you decide.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be mailed postpaid on receipt of price, 75 cents for box or six boxes $2.50, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS ORGANIZE

The new board of county commissioners organized Monday afternoon by the election of Thomas H. Watkins as president for the coming year. The other two members are George Hill and Charles E. Worley. Thomas C. Patterson, as county auditor, is clerk of the board.

The first official act was the reading of a communication from Mayor Adam Frick, calling the attention to the danger of so many shantytowns and camps along the Ohio river just off of the West Side road. The matter was referred to the prosecuting attorney.

No action was taken on the appointment of a janitor and night watchman to succeed John Woods and Richard Ferguson, the present incumbents. Fifteen applications have been filed. Among the list of applicants are Edward White, William Price, Louis Minor, Oliver Davis, John Evans, William Harris and Moses Calloway, colored, and John Bergen, Fred Brodbeck and Henry Wishon, white. The appointment will be made at a special meeting to be held, Wednesday.

President Watkins announced that the board would, at an early date, make a tour of inspection of the roads over the county. After this trip, they will apportion the districts.

Chris Hagerton and John J. Kertz were named as members of the Soldiers' Burial Commission for Brush Creek township to fill the vacancies existing, all members concurring.

DID THEIR BEST.

The three gentlemen who retired from office as county commissioners Saturday, Messrs. William Bennett, Daniel Egbert and J. J. Spencer, were certainly conscientious and honest in their efforts to give the people a good administration. In the years of their incumbency they accomplished much for the good of the county. They did not seek to localize improvements, but they were fair and impartial in the distribution of work, aiding many communities that had been entirely ignored by previous boards of commissioners. Above all, their administration was free from graft, free from the petty abuses that had grown up through long years of uninterrupted party domination.

The commissioners, in the past two years, had to contend with the many extraordinary emergencies that grew out of the great flood of 1913. In the handling of these they made mistakes, as any board was likely to have done. However, the commissioners were honest in their efforts to do what seemed best to them, and they gave the very best service they could. One of their greatest problems was the Scioto bridge project, and while there was some delay in getting that work started, it is now nearing completion, and all are agreed that the completed bridge will be a splendid monument. In other parts of the county the improvement of roads, coupled with unseasonable weather, which made traveling dangerous, has also caused annoyance. In addition to this the commissioners have had to contend with unfit contractors in some instances, and altogether their life has not been a bed of roses by any means. As time passes people will realize more the difficulties under which the retiring board of commissioners labored, and will also be able to form a better conclusion of the good work they have, in the main, accomplished for tax payers.

The new board members, Messrs. Charles Worley, George Hill and Thomas W. Watkins, are men of character and standing, and of considerable experience in business affairs. They have the opportunity to give a notable administration, one devoted to the interests of the taxpayers. We have faith that they will try to do this and will not follow in the footsteps of some previous boards.

CAGE THE GIRLS.

And now it seems that others besides the uplifter on the Columbus Dispatch are worrying about the snares and pitfalls that beset the pathway of the girl stenographer. Most noted and notable is a Mrs. Charlotte Smith, who made a speech at a meeting of uplifters in Boston, in which she advocated cages for stenographers. This leads the Baltimore Sun to observe:

A recent dispatch from Boston says that Mrs. Charlotte Smith in a speech demanded that girl stenographers be kept in wire cages while at work. The speaker is a member of the Women's Homestead Association, and the speech, which was regarded as notable, was made before the ladies of that distinguished body. "Just as soon as her stenographer enters the office," Mrs. Smith said, "her employer ought her, draws out a box of candy and gets closer. I would have a law," this good lady continued, "that no man can have a female stenographer in his office without a wire cage surrounding her." We are forced to the conclusion from these remarks that Mr. Smith has a pretty stenographer.

Mrs. Smith leaves us in doubt on some things. Does she design the cage to keep the man out or to keep the girl in? Perhaps she would advocate a lock on the cage, the key thereof to be sent to the wife of the man outside the cage.

But when we come to think about it, is not Mrs. Smith rather insulting to the girl stenographer? As a rule, she can take care of herself, and some very happy marriages have resulted from the talk across the desk.

The Charleston Gazette sees nothing to worry about in the cage suggestion however. In fact the Gazette approves the idea and shows how it might work out in real life. It says:

"While Sister Smith probably takes herself seriously, her project may not be so disheartening after all. You put a pretty stenographer in a gilded cage and you enhance her charm and her chances for matrimony at least one hundred per cent. Man is a peculiarly constructed animal. The girl in the cage would be 'set off' so, and would have such an atmosphere of the unattainable about her that his heart-strings would be tuned anew whenever he entered the office. He would then have to slip the candy between the bars, and the whole performance would take on such an air of Romeo and Juliet romance that knightly devotion would flower again and chivalry return to relieve the deadening monotony of commercialism. We know several offices in Charleston, in which if the attraction of those offices were imprisoned with Underwoods we would beat our wings against the cage until we presented the appearance of the proverbial bird with a broken pinion."

"Doc Wiley and Doc Grover might vote in favor of the cages as being calculated to promote eugenic kissing, but if Love laughs at locksmiths it would simply chuckle in glee at perforated cages. However, Sister Smith might try one cage and see how it works."

But there is one stenographer in Portsmouth who righteously and wrathfully thinks that the uplifters should attend to their own affairs and leave the stenographers alone. She writes to The Times that she has worked in a number of offices and she has not found any of her employers languishing around, trying to make love to her and she is mighty sure that she has not tried to attract attention from any of them. It has been a business matter all the way through with her, and so has it been with those for whom she has worked. "If the idle women and men freaks would attend to their own affairs, I am sure the world would be better off," said this girl in closing her letter.

And maybe she is right. There are too many people in this country who seem to think that it is their divine mission to seek out and reform. If they can find genuine need of reform, all right. If not, they manufacture or imagine instances, and work themselves into spasms of emotional indignation, so as to attract attention.

THE POLICEMAN.

A Pittsburgh policeman arrested a minister on a charge of loitering, but the minister was enabled to prove the injustice of the charge and he received a public apology from the director of public safety. The policeman who made the arrest was suspended and only saved from dismissal by a plea of over-zealousness. This leads the Pittsburgh Post to comment interestingly upon the duties of policemen. The Post says:

"The policeman is not a despot, but a servant. There are bounds within which he must stay same as the public must keep within the law. When he goes beyond his authority he is a meddling and should be dealt with accordingly. It is a question whether the plea of 'over-zealousness' should be recognized at all. No matter how innocent of intent to do wrong the officer may be, this in no wise lessens the inconvenience or suffering his ignorance may cause. The police force is no place for a man who lets his zeal carry him beyond discretion."

Ironton has had her day in the lime-light and now she drops back into normal lines, picking up the threads of the every day life. This week it is Chilliote's turn to shine, to parade her glad legs and to play host to the multitude. Next week it will be Jackson's turn. And then will come the premier of them all, our own Korn Karival.

This calling upon contractors to make good public work which has not stood the two years' test is really something new and unheard of in Portsmouth. But it is a mighty good thing for the people who have to foot the bills. They are entitled to get in full measure what they pay for.

For some time we have been using occasional abstracts of articles on various diseases and their treatment. These are taken from the Journal of the American Medical Association, whose utterances are approved by the medical men of the country. Have you been reading the selections, and have you been interested in them? We are curious to know.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, says that for the first time since 1912 every freight car owned by his railroad company is in use. That is encouraging.

CLOAK MAKERS TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER

New York, Sept. 20.—The trial of seven men of the cloak and suit makers' union, who were charged with murder committed in the strike conducted by that union five years ago, was set by Supreme Court Justice Tompkins today. The accused men are Max Sigman, Morris Dirupnick, Solomon Metz, Julius Wolf, Max Singer, Isidore Austitz and Abraham Wellinger.

The trial is the result of a confession by Benjamin Fein, who declared that he had been employed to beat strikebreakers. The men are accused of causing the death of Samuel Leibovitz, a striker, who had sought work after going on strike.

The Waverly Republican-News, whose editor, Lloyd Gehres, is one of the liquor license commissioners of Pike county, warns Governor Willis that he had better go slow in fighting the referendum on the McDermott license bill. It says that Willis is doing the same thing that brought about the defeat of Cox. And now we wonder if our good young governor will behold the critical license commissioner of Pike?

Our total exports for the seven months of 1915 ending July 31st were valued at $1,970,763,115. For the same period in 1914 they were valued at $1,200,962,182. Imports for the period in 1915 were valued at $1,003,054,558. In 1914 they were $1,140,593,373. Exports have increased enormously while imports have decreased.

An Asbury Park man dived into a pool as the water was being drawn off from it. He was sucked into a twelve-inch drain pipe, pulled 250 feet to the sea, came to the surface and was rescued.

All that happened to him was both arms broken, collar bones fractured, hips crushed and a lot of skin scraped off. Just before he fainted, after his rescue, he said: "I have been through hell."

Your Health

Edited by John H. Landis, M. D., Health Officer of Cincinnati

Department of The Times Conducted in Co-operation with Committee on Public Health Education, Ohio State Medical Association.

Whooping cough is one of the most contagious diseases of childhood. With the death records before us it is difficult to understand the peculiar mental attitude of the general public towards this scourge of childhood.

Epidemics of typhoid fever, scarlet fever or diphtheria will create a panic in any locality in which they occur, but whooping cough is regarded as a mere incident that is bound to occur, and that the sooner it occurs the better.

The records of the Cincinnati Health Department for the five years ending Dec. 31, 1915, showed that it is more deadly than typhoid fever in this city; that it causes about the same number of deaths as does scarlet fever and that it is only exceeded by measles and diphtheria as a destroyer of infant life.

Almost one-half of the deaths occur during the first year of life, and practically all of them during the first five years.

It is a matter of universal observation among doctors that the younger the patient at the time of the attack, the greater the probability of a fatal result.

This furnishes a valuable hint to parents to exercise every precaution to protect children from this disease until as late a period in childhood as possible.

The complications are what give the disease its deadly character. Pneumonia is the most important and announces its presence to a trained observer. Children without medical care are frequently seen by the physician for the first time a few hours before death, at a time when all chances of recovery have been thrown away.

After apparent recovery children should be kept under observation from six months to one year, for with the possible exception of measles no other disease is so frequently followed by tuberculosis.

The control of whooping cough is largely a matter of care on the part of the parents. Every case should be under a physician's care. Every case should be kept isolated until it has recovered. Taking a child with this disease into a school, picture show or other public place is an offense against the laws of Ohio and may be the direct means of carrying disease and death into some one's home.

BY GENE HARRISON

New York, Sept. 20.—Even Broadway appears shocked! The roll-top stocking is responsible. Sweet young things are wearing their stockings rolled down to within an inch or two of the ankle. Dame Fashion issued the edict recently and daily it is being obeyed by increasing numbers of her devotees.

The last word in autumn fashions was brought over from Bordeaux this week. There is the silhouette skirt, shorter and wider than ever; the high top boot with a dainty gold watch ticking its heart away as it rests on the left ankle of Milady's left foot; the Joffe wrap, a style of cloak that takes its name from France's war hero, and the high crowned hat perked down sharply over the eyes and a tilt at the rear of the coiffure.

With the skirts, higher or shorter, as you wish, will be worn hosiery of the gayest colors, even ultra violet rays, incased in high top boots.

Hand painted pigeons, live birds, probably will be a fad this winter if the birds can be had, so Fashion predicts.

The strange craze for astonishing pets has already popularized

the rabbit, the kitten, the monkey and even the alligator has found favor as a decorative appendage to be worn and carried in public.

Last Easter a woman appeared on Fifth Avenue with a live canary imprisoned in a tulle cage on her hat. Since then pet mania, cats and other weird pets have found decorative shelter in the arms of modish women. Whether it be a desire to study natural history or to ornament herself with these symbols of the picturesque, the public is fast becoming accustomed to the strange fad.

Though a bear cub, on leash, appeared last week dragging its mistress in breathless steps along Broadway, in the "white light district" it didn't attract enough attention to block pedestrian traffic. It is predicted that squirrels and raccoons will be seen on leash when mildly promenades a little later in the season.

Poker games with women card players are being run openly at Long Beach, "the Monte Carlo of Long Island" in defiance to the police. No effort is made to conceal. Stakes are high. Many of the games are mixed, women sitting in with men.

And along the board walk young girls and dancing men are being served with drinks certainly prohibited in Memphis if one is to take the legislature seriously. Roulette and "shootin' craps" are feeding the feminine craving for excitement as dainty fingers roll the dotted ends down the green cloth, or bank the chips while the little ivory ball spins round the wheel. The authorities have been asked to stop the gambling, or at least, exclude femininity.

Rheumatism and Allied Pains—They Must Go!

The congestion of the blood in its flow causes pain. Sloan's Liniment penetrates to the congested and starts the blood to flow freely. The body's warmth is renewed, the pain is gone. The "man or woman who has rheumatism, neuralgia or other pain and fails to keep Sloan's Liniment in their home is like a drowning man refusing a rope. Why suffer? Get a bottle of Sloan's, 25c and 50c. $1.00 bottle holds six times as much as 25c size.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

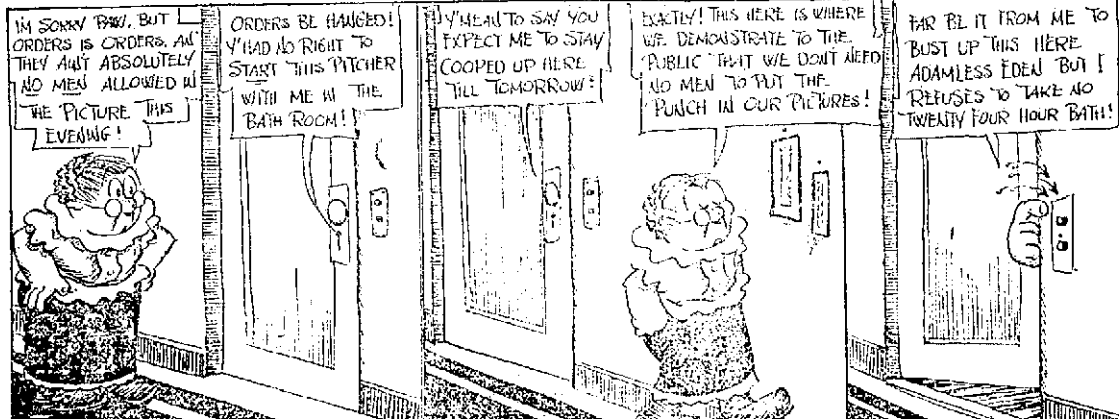

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up

Instant relief—no waiting. Your congested nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more yawning, sneezing, blowing, headache, dryness, or struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

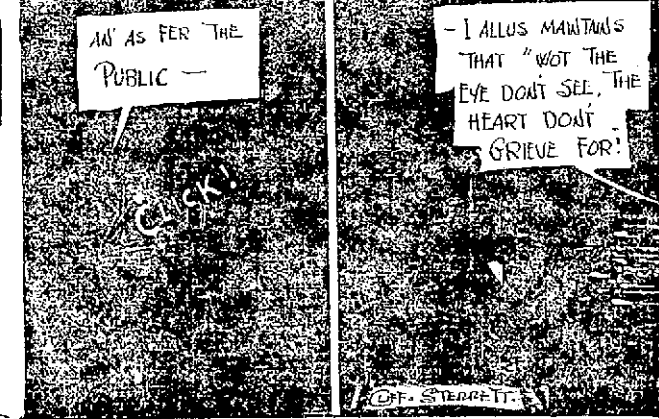

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffy with a cold or nasty catarrh.

ENGAGEMENT RINGS

"Well, in spite of the war, little cupid seems pretty busy, judging by the demand for engagement rings." This remark by one of our staff the other day expresses the situation in a nutshell. In spite of the war, the whole human program will go on just the same. There will continue to be engagements and weddings, just as in the times of peace, and purchasers for these must continue also. If an engagement ring be an extravagance, surely it is a most necessary one. It is not, however, necessary to pay a great deal of money to procure a perfect Carr diamond ring. We have a fine assortment from $15 upward, three at $25, $50 and $100 being especially worthy of mention. See window display.

Thomas Rogers, well known citizen, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. E. Brady on Duques Creek at 7:45 o'clock Monday morning of Bright's disease. He was 68 years of age, Sunday.

He leaves three sisters, Mrs. W. E. Brady, Mrs. Frank Kaiser of Irongton and Mrs. E. Massie of Hales Creek. He was a member of the Weston M. E. church. The funeral will be held Wednesday at 11 o'clock from the Hales Creek Baptist church with Rev. J. E. DiBert in charge.

Mary Finney Carter
Mary Finney Carter, born May 24, 1915, died Sunday afternoon at 3:50 o'clock after a several weeks serious illness of peritonitis. The deceased was a daughter of 248 Gallia pike New Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Carter are heart-broken over the loss of their loved one. Mr. Carter and son, Kenneth, were called home Sunday from French Lick, Ind., on account of the serious illness of his child.

Besides the parents the deceased leaves a sister Margaret and brother Kenneth.

The remains will be taken to South Webster, Tuesday afternoon and services will be held at the grave at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. Morris Bridwell officiating.

William Questel Whalen
William Questel Whalen, the bright little six months old baby son of P. J. Whalen, a well-known N. & W. machinist, died at the family home, No. 1019 Fifth street, Saturday at midnight, after a few days' illness with congestion of the bowels. The grief-stricken mother before her marriage was Miss Dora C. Questel. Two other surviving children of the bereaved family are: Catherine, aged 3 1/2 years, and Mary Frances aged 18 months. The heartfelt sympathy of their many friends goes out to the broken-hearted young parents in their sad loss. The funeral will take place from Holy Redeemer church this afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in the parish cemetery.

Mrs. Ann Corvins
A long and useful life came to an end in the death of Mrs. Ann Corvins, who passed away at her late residence on Gallia street last Saturday afternoon, at 1 o'clock.

Ann Goodell was born Nov. 7, 1828, in Leeds, England, daughter of Benjamin Goodell. She came from an old English family, well known in Yorkshire; Separatists from the Church of England, and of firm Presbyterian faith. She was married to John Corvins and came to this country on her wedding trip. On the way over the young couple were shipwrecked on the coast of Newfoundland, near the spot where the Titanic went down. The memory of their experience and the grateful safety of these shores made the country of her adoption especially dear to her. She has been practically a life-long resident of Portsmouth and vicinity, a widow for many years and the mother of five children. She was a faithful and the oldest member of the First Presbyterian church, both in age and time of service. She always had firm convictions of right and wrong and was a splendid neighbor and a rare friend. She endeavored herself to every one whose privilege it has been to know her. In spite of her age she has been unusually well this summer, interested in all that went on around her, wonderfully active for her eighty-six years, and growing sweeter and more lovable day by day. The suffering which followed the sad accident three weeks ago—the breaking of her limb—was more than could be borne by the frail body, and she slept to her rest towards the close of day. She is survived by two daughters, the Misses Alice and Kate Corvins, teachers in the Portsmouth schools. The memory of her life is very dear to a host of her friends.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, Sept. 20.—The higher prices and greater activity in railways which characterized last week's final operations was resumed today. New York Central, Chesapeake and Ohio and Reading being the most conspicuous. As usual, however, the more substantial advances were confined to raw shares. General Motors rose several points to 295, Studebaker 31 1/2 to 32 1/2, Bethlehem steel 6 to 5 3/4; New York Airbrake 2 1/2 to 1 3/4 and Willys-Overland 3 to 1 3/4. Other stocks of this class advanced 1 to 2 points with light gains for the oil and miscellaneous issues. United States Steel opened 3 1/2 up at 70 1/2, but soon fell back while motors added to early advances.

General Motors made a new record at 295 and unprecedented quotations were also registered by Studebaker, which extended its gain to 32 1/2, Willys-Overland to 20 1/2, American Woolen 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 and United States Alcohol 1 1/2 to 90 1/2. These quotations were materially reduced later, however, Studebaker losing 3 1/2. The movement in other specialties became more irregular, Colorado Fuel declining 2 1/2 to 53 and Great Northern Ore 1 1/2 to 44 1/2. Airbrake touched 1 3/4 and Goodrich rose 3 1/2 to 71 1/2. Active railroads declined more or less generally under Saturday's final quotations but rallied later with other former leaders. Bonds were firm. Manipulation was again apparent in the later dealings, specialties like Continental Can and Federal Mining being advanced materially.

The closing was strong.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Notwithstanding a show of strength at the outset, the wheat market today underwent a decided setback influenced by the relative cheapness of Canadian prices and by the unpromising outlook for any immediate enlargement of export business from the United States. The temporary strength at the start was due to unfavorable weather, but the effect soon wore off. Much stop-loss selling ensued. The opening, which varied from 1 1/2 and 1 1/2 off to 1 1/2 and 1 1/2 up, with December at 93 to 93 1/2 and May at 95 1/2 to 96, was followed by some moderate gains and then a sharp general decline.

Predictions of frost failed to give corn a lasting prop. The market succumbed to the weakness of wheat. After opening at a range varying from 1/4 lower to 3/4 advance, the market sagged heavily.

Heavy weather made oats rather steady as compared with other somewhat in the general weakness of cereals.

Provisions emphasized with the lower quotations for hogs. Some of the selling was from packers. Assertions that the Anglo-French loan had been virtually assured resulted later in a rally. There was also purchasing because of reports of an alliance between Bulgaria and Turkey. The close was unsettled at the same as Saturday night to 3/4 and 1/4 higher with Dec. 93 1/2 and 1/4 and May 97.

Subsequently when wheat developed fresh strength, corn took an upward swing. The close was firm, unchanged to 1/4 higher.

loop about the Russians over a front of some 200 miles and are not only in their rear but are menacing seriously the single railway line and the few available wagon roads stretching to the south which was the case at Warsaw, the number of Russian prisoners left behind with the evacuation of Vilna, was not great.

Apparently the only way in which the retreating forces may ameliorate the exceedingly bad situation is by a counter blow.

It is pointed out that von Hindenburg's cavalry has penetrated so deeply into the hostile country as to create a salient open to sudden attack, if the Russians should be able to command reinforcements at the proper time and place, but it is not believed here that his opponents are in a position to deal such a blow effectively. There is a great deal of speculation as to the German objective. Opinion is divided whether von Hindenburg will seek merely to close his loop, thus capturing the army within the net, or not content with this, will press eastward towards Minsk and from the west through Slonim, in an effort to reproduce the encircling movement on a more gigantic scale and again try for a decisive victory. Similar tactics attempted after the fall of Warsaw, met with failure.

ure. The Russians are employing their familiar rear guard tactics, and the hope is expressed in the British press that they will be able to fight their way out without shattering losses.
Next to Warsaw Vilna is the most important town in Western Russia. It is a railway junction of great military importance. It was from Vilna that Napoleon fled in disguise in 1812, during the retreat from Moscow.

PASSENGERS TELL OF AIR RAID

their coats while the damage was repaired.

The roar of guns from the city was punctuated at intervals by the explosions of bombs which fell in Newgate street, not far from St. Paul's Cathedral in Holborn, in Chesham, in Bloomfield street, not far from Liverpool Street station, and near the water front of the Thames river in that section of the city in which St. Paul's is located.

"The Zeppelin seemed to float lazily above us," said A. S. Thum, of Sydney, Australia, who was studying at the Victoria hotel near Charing Cross.

"It reminded me of nothing so much as a great, fat sausage," said Mr. Thum, who was sitting at the hotel table when the raid occurred. "My wife and I watched the Zeppelin from a balcony of our hotel, the Metropole," said Alexander McNab of Bridgeport, Conn. "It went directly over the hotel and dropped bombs."

"There was hardly a space of five seconds during the ten minutes that the searchlight beams rested on the raider, eye-witnesses said, that the sky was not lighted by flashes of exploding shells. As the noise of cannon grew louder those who had fled at first to cellars gained courage and came out into the streets. They were in almost every stage of undress and thousands of men, women and children walked the streets, or stood in groups, gazing upward, dressed only in their night clothes. The bursting shells lighting the sky like meteors, shattered into sudden fire all around the Zeppelin. The spits of flame seemed to be finding their target. Meantime the Zeppelin maneuvered over the Holborn section of London, circling at least twice. These maneuvers ended when a shell burst almost directly under the aircraft's bow.

BUCK ALLEN IS NEW POLICE CHIEF

To Take Charge This Evening

Buck E. Allen, a popular North End grocer and former patrolman, was appointed chief of police by Mayor Erick Monday afternoon to succeed the late W. T. McDarty.
Mr. Allen at once took the oath of office and after the late chief's gold badge was pinned on his coat lapel by Director John Linck, of the safety department, he was introduced about the city buildings. He will actively enter upon his duties at roll-call this evening.
Mr. Allen, himself, did not seek the office, though a receptive candidate for the place, but some influential citizens of the North End did some talk boosting for him. He was recommended as a man of ability, conscientious and of affable manner.
The new chief is only 45 years of age, weighs 230 pounds, is 5 ft. 11 inches tall and is a man of splendid appearance. He was born and reared on a farm in Florida county, Ky., the son of Rev. D. P. Allen, a Baptist minister. He was educated in the normal schools of Prestonsburg, Hindman, East Point and Paintsville, Ky., and taught school for sixteen years in Florida and McGuffin counties, Ky. He studied law at Hindman, Ky., and was admitted to the bar in 1897, but practiced only a short time. He came to Portsmouth from Catlettsburg, Ky., eight years ago, working for Former Mayor H. C. Searcy as agent, inspector and assistant superintendent of the Western & Southern Life Insurance company. He was appointed to the police force last year, but resigned after eight months of service because of the failing health of his late son, John B. Allen, whom he has a wife, and of eight children born to them, five are living: Kirk Allen, Mrs. Ollie Conley, Herbert Allen and Misses Mary and Ruby Allen. The family resides at No. 1039 Eleventh street. Mr. Allen, by his uniform courtesy, made quite a name for himself while stationed as a day policeman on the N. & W. depot beat.

Couldn't Rent Auto, So He Bought One

Harry Collins is a clever fellow and a steelworker. He wanted to go to the Apple Show in Ironton Saturday. And he wanted to make the trip in a machine.
Going to all the garages in the city and being unable to hire a machine Mr. Collins walked into F. E. Bower's automobile store at Ninth and John streets.
"What do you want for this machine?" asked Mr. Collins as he pointed to a 1916 Model Overland car.
"Why that car will cost you $1085," replied Mr. Bower.
Whipping out his check book, Mr. Collins wrote out a check for the car, filled it with friends and started for the Apple Show.

"I said I was going to Ironton in a machine if I had to buy one," yelled Mr. Collins to friends he passed on Ninth street after leaving the Bower sales room.
And what happened? Why Mr. Collins had an accident in Ironton right off the reel, but it was slight in nature, one of the fenders of the newly purchased car was bent when the machine and another one just barely grazed each other.
Mr. Collins returned to the city Sunday and was busy showing off his handsomely appointed car to his friends.
Mrs. Peter Jahraus, of Fourth street, who has been very ill for two weeks, was reported a little better Monday.

Rev. Gillilan Goes To Sciotoville Ch.

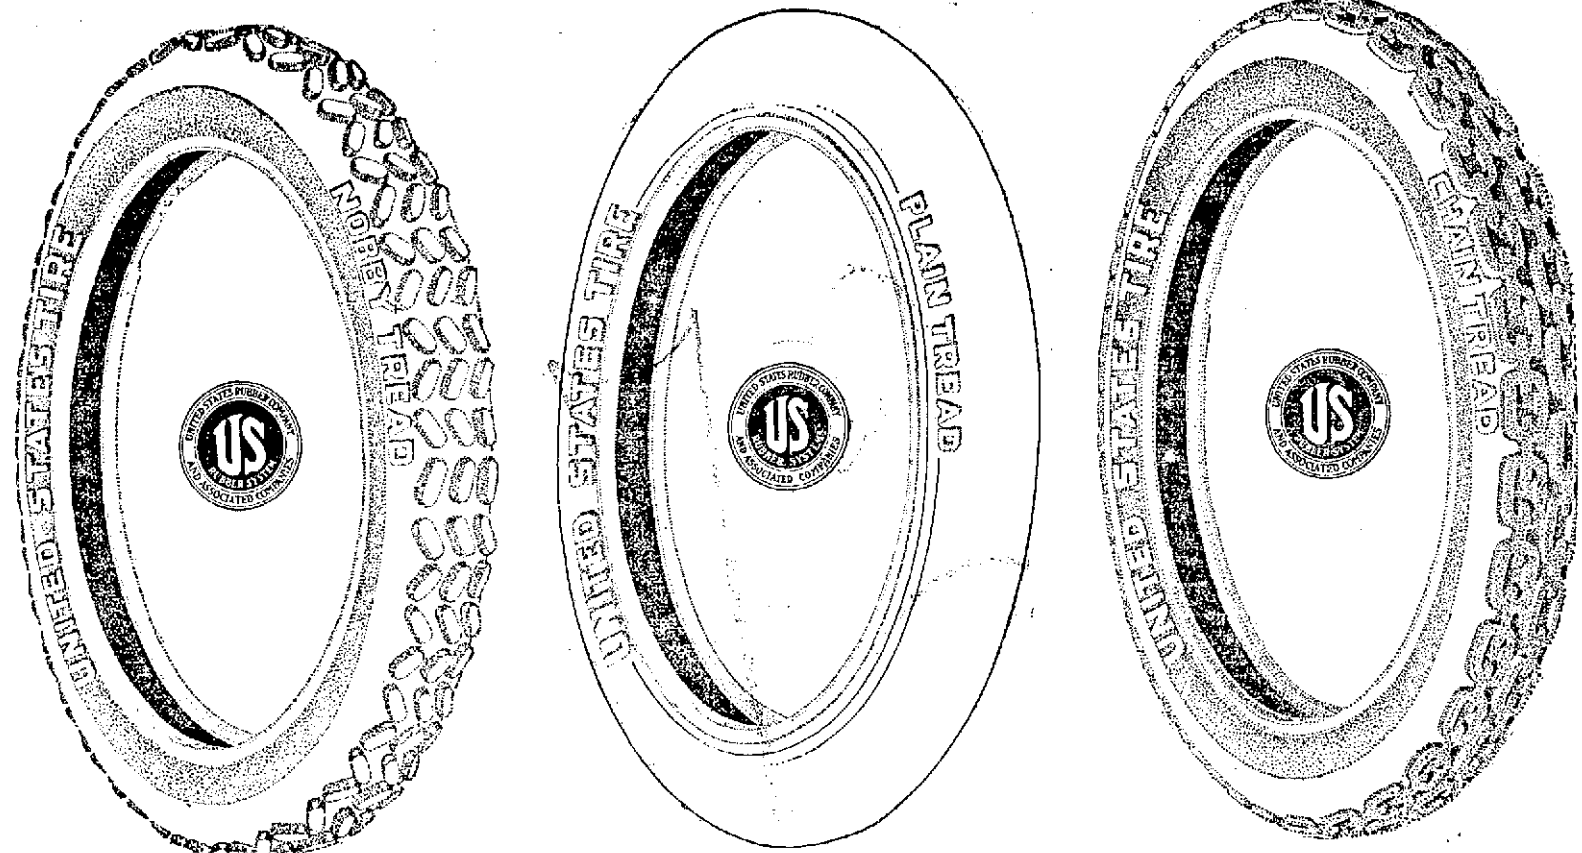

Zanesville, Sept. 20.—Trouble at Euclid Avenue M. E. church here has been settled when Rev. J. C. Arbuckle, district superintendent, announced that Rev. W. T. Bloom of Reynoldsburg had been assigned to the pastorate, while Rev. H. S. Bailey, former pastor, was sent to Sciotoville, where he was assigned by the conference. Rev. Franklin Gillilan of Vanata, whom the Euclid church board refused to accept was sent to Sciotoville.

Rev. Stuart Creates A Fine Impression

Rev. Charles L. Stuart, pastor of the Baptist church of Elmore, N. Y., delivered two splendid sermons at the First Baptist church Sunday morning and evening. Two large congregations heard Rev. Stuart, who preached trial sermons, he being a candidate for the pastorate. "The Sword of the Spirit" was the subject of the morning sermon while in the evening Rev. Stuart used as his subject "The Believer's Standing in Christ." Several other candidates will deliver trial sermons at the church before a call is extended. An effort is being made to have Rev. Winthrop Stillwell of Solon, N. Y., deliver two trial sermons at the First Baptist church, next Sunday.

Rev. Horst Is Greeted By Large Audiences

Large audiences greeted Rev. George P. Horst on the occasion of his first Sunday at the Second Presbyterian church, the audience overflowing into the balcony at both Sunday morning and Sunday evening services.

Rev. Horst made an excellent impression upon the congregation, members of which feel that the church will become a wonderful power for good under the administration of his pastorate. He is a forceful speaker, with a commanding personality and his sermons Sunday showed deep thought and careful preparation.

In the morning Rev. Horst preached on the subject, "The Church As An Instrument of God," in the evening "In the Cross of Christ I Glory."

The new pastor visited the Sabbath School Sunday morning and made brief talks to the adult classes.

Special music by the choir featured both services.

Raising The Money

Ben G. Harris, chairman of the financial committee of the Korn Festival, stated Monday that donations for the festival in a financial way were coming in at a satisfactory rate.

"We have found a few people who contributed towards the general expenses of the show last year, who are not giving a cent this year, while on the other hand we have fortunately run into a lot of new and willing contributors to the worthy cause," Mr. Harris said Monday.

BIGELOW'S NEW PASTOR GIVEN FINE RECEPTION

Two audiences that practically taxed the capacity of Bigelow M. E. church Sunday morning and evening extended a most cordial and enthusiastic greeting to the church's new pastor, the Rev. C. E. Chandler. The morning audience was one of the largest ever in the church and the new pastorate of Rev. Chandler, who made a most favorable impression started off most auspiciously.

At the morning services Rev. Chandler's subject was "The Night Kind of Living," and in the evening his theme was "The Unfulfilled Gospel." Both subjects were handled in a masterly manner and Rev. Chandler soon stamped himself a minister of great ability.

Like "Will-O'-The Wisp," Ever Eluding

As remarkable as has been the demand in other cities for the famous Tanlac, all indications induce the belief that the demand here in Portsmouth will be even greater. The dealer here reports that Tanlac has created a sensation in this city, and that scores of grateful people are more than enthusiastic in their praise of the "Master Medicine."

One of this number is Mrs. Anna Killen, of 113 13th street, Portsmouth, who makes statement as to how Tanlac has helped her. Mrs. Killen has had that experience in her quest of health, that so many others also have had, in finding it like the "Will-O'-The-Wisp," ever eluding.

"Yes, I am recommending Tanlac to my friends and neighbors. This medicine has built me up wonderfully from a run-down, nervous condition."

In the great majority of cases of nervousness, and general debility the cause can be traced to a bad stomach. Then again, stomach, liver and kidney troubles are often caused by a catarrhal inflammation of those organs. Dull, throbbing headaches, droppings in the stomach, pains in the pit of the stomach, side and kidney region, lost appetite, no ambition and a constant contracting of edgings and colds, are characteristic symptoms of this almost universal malady.

Tanlac, nature's new assistant, is the most rational weapon against catarrh, and it soon brings about an astonishing improvement in your spirits and general condition.

It is aptly called the "Master Medicine," and is sold in Portsmouth, at the Fisher & Streich Drug Store, South and Chillicothe Sts., where representatives courteously explain Tanlac.

All Lodges Invited

Chairman Roy McElhaney of the Fraternal parade committee, wishes it announced that a cordial welcome is extended to every fraternal order in the city to enter the parade. He says that he has mailed out invitations to every lodge of which he and his committee have knowledge, and that if any of them have been overlooked, it was not intentional, and they are urged to send a representative to the meeting Tuesday evening.

RETURN REV. IRVIN

Just before the eighty-fifth session of the Ohio Conference of the African M. E. church came to a close at the Allen Temple in Cincinnati, last night, Bishop Cornelius T. Shaffer called the ministers about the chancel and handed out the new appointments.

The Rev. John Irvin, pastor of Allen A. M. E. church of this city, was returned for another year. Rev. Irvin, who came here from Ironton, has made good and his friends will be pleased to learn that he was returned to

IN THE BILL PARADE

The Ironton Irononian Sunday morning said: "One of the prominent 'Bills' in the parade was William E. Cook, vice mayor of Portsmouth, an old Lawrence county boy. Another was William L. Boss of Newport, Ky., police judge of Cote Brilliante, a suburb on the south of Newport, an old Ironton boy. Both came to help boost Ironton's Apple Show. They have their wives with them. Both Bills had their sons Bills in parade. Vice Mayor Cook and son were boosting the Korn Festival at Portsmouth next month."

SUNDAY SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

There was a drop of 283 in the Bible School attendance Sunday when the total reached the 4913 mark. The total a week ago was 5201. Christian suffered a decrease of 251 and Trinity went back into first place with 765 present. Second Presbyterian kept above the 500 mark while most of the smaller schools suffered losses. A Good Suggestion

Several citizens suggest that the Korn Festival committee could do nothing better than to secure for Portsmouth the collection of relics recently found by archaeologists on the Hayman farm.

The exhibit would prove a most interesting and educational one. The collection is said to be about the largest and most valuable of the kind ever found in Ohio and is now. It was shipped to the Ohio State University without Portsmouth people receiving an opportunity to see it but if proper influences could be brought to bear doubtless could be loaned to the city for the week of the Korn Festival.

POOR HARVEY, ONCE HE COULD DRINK 47 WHISKIES A DAY; CAN'T NOW

"Yes, I guess if I had all the money I made and spent I'd have $40,000 and a Ford automobile," said Harvey Callum in police court Monday. Harvey also made the remarkable statement that time was when he could drink as high as 47 glasses of whiskey per day and it wouldn't effect him. He was run in Saturday night for having some trouble with Charles Stahl, Jr., though he denied having been near Stahl's home. He was fined $10 and costs.

TERMINALS

Herman Fitzjerald, 28, colored, whose home was in Blackstone, Va., was so badly crushed under the wheels of an N. & W. train at Omega Saturday afternoon at 3:35 p. m. that he died one hour later in Waverly. He was employed as laborer under section foreman William Fiddler but had not worked for several weeks, and according to Fiddler, he had been drinking heavily. The camp cars were being moved from Highways to Omega and Fitzjerald was riding between the kitchen and dining cars and fell on the tracks. He was taken to the office of Dr. O. C. Andre, the company surgeon at Waverly, who dressed his injuries. The remains were turned over to the county authorities for burial. The train victim has a wife living at Blackstone, Va.

John Thomas stenographer in J. T. Carey's office is enjoying a fifteen days' vacation. He and wife and child are visiting relatives in Jackson.

J. O. Seerest, N. & W. freight conductors, had his nose cut Saturday while working on extra freight 1066-1021, east bound. Just as the train was leaving Watts Tank, W. Va., a draw had pulled out of the head engine causing the emergency brakes to go on. Seerest was sitting on his bunk and the sudden stop of the train threw him against the window sill of the caboose.

Chris Salazar, foreigner, 28, employed as section laborer on the N. & W. under section foreman T. F. Lewis had the middle finger on his right hand mashed Saturday while in the west Portsmouth yards. Salazar lives on Kendall avenue. He was on a lever car and the lever came down on his finger while he was pumping the car. The company physician dressed the mashed digit.

J. T. Carey, Seito division superintendent spent Monday in Cincinnati on business.

Mrs. W. R. Jewell wife of an N. & W. engineer left Saturday for Cincinnati to visit relatives.

The preaching services at the Tabernacle Sunday evening by Rev. O. L. King were largely attended. Rev. King and wife are holding meetings in the N. & W. shops every noon.

Miss Mabel and Myrtle Bord and brother Harry returned Sunday.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Marriage licenses issued since Saturday afternoon are:

Harold K. Brush, 26, a steel worker, of Haverhill, and Catherine Hobstetter, 29, of this city. Rev. J. W. Dillon.

Arthur S. Goddard, 35, a farmer, of Junior Furnace, and Pearl B. Boynton, 30, of Haverhill. Rev. Robert Wallace.

Grand Hammond, 18, a farmer, of Bertha P. O., and Ada Chapman, 20, of the Chillicothe pike. Squire John W. Byron.

Case Dismissed

The case of the state of Ohio against Louis Droege, charged with failure to provide, was dismissed in common pleas court Monday morning upon motion of Droege's attorneys, Milner, Miller and Seel.

Woman Burned

Mrs. Frank Denman of Eighth street, was painfully burned about the hands and arms Sunday in a gasoline explosion. When she applied a match to one of the burners of her stove an explosion followed and the fiery fluid fell all around her. The stove was tossed in the back yard and no serious damage resulted.

Mens Bible Class Plans Big Banquet

The Men's Fellowship Bible The Social Side of the Class. Class of the Second Presbyterian church will give a "get-together banquet" in the basement of the church, Tuesday evening, September 28, beginning promptly at 6:30 o'clock. This affair will be in the nature of a reception to the new minister, Rev. George P. Horst, as well as a testimonial to the teacher of the class, Attorney B. F. Kimble, whose untiring efforts have resulted in the class being built up to its splendid proportion. Mr. Kimble is one of the best bible students in the city and the sessions of the class are always enthusiastic, helpful and instructive.

Invitations will be sent out within a short time and it is hoped to have not less than sixty percent. It is planned at the banquet to map out plans for the coming fall work and the affair is anxiously looked forward to by every member of the growing class. The following program will be rendered:

PORTSMOUTH ATHLETE.

Dear Dolly—I have a boy friend who once cared a great deal for me, at least he said so. He has asked me for my love, but I have not shown him that I do love him, although I care a great deal for him. Lately he made a date with me and did not keep it, but had a very good excuse. Then he made another and just a couple of hours before he was expected, he called up and said that he was sick. Now he calls up and talks of coming out, but never comes, and he writes to me once in a while. I answer his letters, but I do not call him up. Do you think he cares for me or not? And why does he act in this way? Why do you think he calls me up and talks of coming out if he does not intend to? I am asked to a party in a short time from now and I must bring a boy friend with me. Do you advise me to ask this boy?

TIMES SERVICE PATTERN 1425

1425. A practical convenient model.

Ladies' House Dress with long or short sleeve.
For utility, comfort and convenience, this design has much to commend it. It closes in coat style, with the entire fronts overlapping. This assures easy and practical adjustment. An ample pocket is arranged over the side front. The waist is finished with a neat collar, and with cuffs for sleeve in short length. The long sleeve is dart fitted. The dart sleeve may be cut away and the opening thus made be finished with a facing and underlap for buttons and buttonholes or other fasteners; then the sleeve may be turned back over the arm when desired. The pattern is good for gingham, percale, lawn, serenade, seersucker, madras, dimity, drill or linen. It is cut in 7 sizes: 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires 6 1/2 yards of 36-inch material for a 36-inch size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Orders for patterns are forwarded to New York to be filled, hence it requires several days for the pattern to reach the purchaser. Patterns can not be ordered by telephone. Do not use postage stamps for larger denomination than two cents.

CAUTION—Order adult patterns by number of pattern, giving bust measure for waist patterns, and waist measure for skirt patterns. For Misses and Children give number of pattern and age only.

BREAKS ANKLE

Frank Kaylor, aged 83 years, a boiler at E. J. Kenrick & Co.'s mineral water plant, suffered a compound fracture of his left ankle in a fall on the West Side Sunday afternoon, about 2:30.

"See," as he is more familiarly known to his friends, had gone strolling, and just as he reached the "Y" road near the Elbow Locks and while walking on the concrete wall, he stumbled and fell a distance of about ten feet. The two bones of his ankle were shattered and near the joint were cracked into a dozen pieces. Carl Weghorst, son of Grover M. E. Weghorst, came along in a buggy and brought the injured man to his home, 103 1/2 Front street, where he has lived 75 years with his sister, Mrs. Kate Burnshine. Drs. Carl and Walter Burnshine were called to attend him. They put the injured man under an anesthetic to reduce the fracture. Mr. Kaylor was reported resting somewhat easier Monday morning.

FIRE CHIEF GETS LETTER FROM E. J. SALT FORMERLY OF PORTSMOUTH

Fire Chief W. A. McQuat is in lives in duty's call I remember their memories and reverent names and place the garland of victory over the victor's brow.

And to those so dear to my memory I recall the old friends and the true ones—Capt. Billy Williamson, Louis Ellis, Frank Fagnus—and oh, I wish I could recall them all by name, but I mean to remember, even though I may forget the names just at the moment. Tell them for me, Chief, I remember them all and cherish that friendship that shall pass only when my life shall go out beyond the smiling and the weeping.

And so, Chief McQuat, I am so glad to have known you and I wait for the day when I shall meet you personally and talk with you and we will try and gather with all the boys and talk over the scenes of the past and live over again the happy days when my life's most earnest efforts was to build better the standing and enlargement of Portsmouth's fire department. I am coming down to see you all, and if you'll promise, Chief, that you won't say one word about that false alarm that was turned in twenty-eight years ago, I'll promise to come and talk to you in the fall and we will have a grand glorious "fire deep home coming" and then we will tell you the truth about the alarm and who bought the sitting horses (that Jim Kirby and Frank Knauss bought), and maybe I had something to do with it, too; I feel guilty anyway.

May success, good luck, and my best wishes go with you and to each and every member of the fire department I want you to send a special message of remembrance.

God bless every one of them and their homes and families, for I can assure them that the sweetest moments of my business and social life was associated with the Portsmouth fire department. Success and good luck to you, one and all, is my highest and best wishes.

Very sincerely,
E. J. SALT.

The Steel Plant team spit even in a double header at Millbrook Sunday afternoon losing the first game to the Spiders by the score of 11 to 6 and winning the second from the Clippers, the score being 6 to 3. The game was called in the fifth because of darkness.

By losing the first game to the Spiders the millmen lost the series to them, the Spiders being the only team that has beat them twice this season. The hitting of Shultz and Timmes and fielding of Hauck features the game. The scores:

Spiders 11 15 4
Steel Plant 6 10 9
Batteries—Shultz and Sanson; Meyers and Timmes.
Clippers 3 3 2
Steel Plant 6 6 2
Batteries—Kellar and Brennan; Lowry and Timmes.

Chief, I know after so many years you will remit the penalty but ask the boys the first opportunity yourself "Who turned in that alarm on East Fourth street at eleven o'clock one night," and if Jim Kirby knew anything about it, that was twenty-eight years ago but still Echo answers "Who turned in the alarm and forgot to turn the key out of the box?"

The fire was not there but the boys were there all right in double quick time, and do really say that they couldn't find E. J. Salt or Jim Kirby for a week afterwards. In fact, we were busy for several days and never went to see the boys for over a week or more.

You may inquire if you will what would sit down whenever there was a call for an alarm to hitch them up." Echo again answers Frank Knauss, Jim Kirby and E. J. Salt.

On memory, what bright spots come upon the canvas, where life's picture was painted as I look at it tonight and smile in remembrance; the roses of life, if you please, whose fragrance of recollection will cast its perfume through coming years to come.

And again I turn the leaves of memory's pages and read the shadows, the hushed silence of voices stilled forever, the heroes of the fight whose lives had been given to duty; I hear the moan of that noble friend and faithful hero, George Gims, and it seems today as I looked upon his crushed features and dying heart throbs and then a noble life passed into the portals of the unknown, for in God's remembrance surely George Gims will reap his reward in that home beyond in the "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

A FEW PICKUPS AND GROUNDERS

The First Hollow Specials across the river played two games with the Outlaws of this city Sunday, winning the first one 2 to 0 and losing the second one 1 to 0.

Detroit has had everything necessary to win a pennant this season except real pitching. The Tigers are 1,000 per cent fine in hitting, run getting and base stealing, but they haven't the pitchers.

The complete record of Ty Cobb's ten years in major league baseball is a clear index of the wonderful ability of this diamond star. Cobb joined the Detroit club on August 28, 1905, and during the decade in which he has played for the Tigers has reaped up a grand batting average of .368 in 4,246 games. In this period Cobb went to bat 4,585 times making 1,799 hits and 875 runs. He also has 485 stolen bases to his credit, an average of 48 and a fraction a year.

The four leading pitchers in the American league who have worked in 25 or more games are members of the Boston club. The next three are with Detroit while Chicago claims the next two. The leaders who are in the 600 class are: Foster, Boston 18 won 5 lost; Ruth, Boston, 16 and 6; Shore, Boston 17 and 7; Leonard, Boston 13 and 6; Daus, Detroit 21 and 10; Coveleskie, Detroit 22 and 11; Boland, Detroit 12 and 6; Scott, Chicago, 21 and 11; Faber, Chicago 22 and 12; Fisher, New York, 18 and 10; Ayers, Washington 14 and 8; Johnson, Washington 12 and 13; Galla, Washington 11 and 9; Dubuc, Detroit 17 and 11.

Rheumatism Easily Relieved By Cleansing the Blood

S. S. S. Gives Quick Relief by Toning Up the Blood

Yes, but how? A natural question. The answer is that you must cleanse your blood by stimulating it to healthy, vigorous action, so that it will throw off the germs and impurities that cause Rheumatism. The action of the wonderful blood purifier, S. S. S., is to practically renew the life blood, give it vigor, stimulate the flow making it throw off the germs and the poison impurities. The excruciating pains of Rheumatism, whether it is the shooting, stabbing Sciatica, the gripping agony of muscular Rheumatism, or the aching arms and legs that break up sleep will be entirely relieved by S. S. S. Get it at any drug store, but insist upon S. S. S. Let us tell you about blood diseases. Send for booklet "What the Mirror Tells," or if you live in a peculiar case, write S. S. S. Co., Atlanta, Ga., and begin treatment at once.

A Roll And A Name.
Letters addressed to J. H. Pickens, Louisville, O., were found on a neatly dressed, red-haired young man found helplessly drunk in a alley back of Jones' Blacksmith shop on Gay street Saturday afternoon. When searched at the city prison a roll of over $300 was found on him.

Sunday evening Walter McClure of the Bigelow church had charge of the services.

Rev. H. S. Bailey, former pastor of the Euclid Avenue M. E. church of Zanesville, O., failed to arrive in Sciotoville, Sunday, to fill the pastorate at Sciotoville M. E. church to which place he was assigned last week. Nor a member of the church has heard from Rev. Bailey and it is not known whether he will come.

BASEBALL Reds Beaten In Ninth

Cincinnati, Sept. 20.—Boston won the first game of the series from Cincinnati here Sunday 3 to 2.

It was a pitchers' battle, Rudolph and Schneider both working well, the former, however, having a shade the better of it. In the fifth inning, Rudolph hit Clark, who later scored on Moranville's error, and Schneider's single. A base on balls and two singles in the sixth netted Boston two runs. Mollwitz made a home run in the eighth tying the score. Gowdy singled in the ninth and Fitzpatrick ran for him. An out and Moran's double scored the winning run. The score:

DR. J. C. JACKSON DISCUSSES THE REV. A. R. CONNELL CHARGES

To the Editor of the Times:

Dear Sir:—I have read with sad interest the Rev. A. R. Connell's article in your issue of Sept. 14, relative to his appointment made by the late session of the Ohio conference, of which both he and I are members. I feel that there are some things in that statement to the public, which in justice to Methodism need correction. People who are not acquainted with our ecclesiastical policy are liable to get a distorted idea of the workings of the itinerant connectional system from some of Brother Connell's expressions.

But first let me disavow any personal or paragon interest in this case. I write solely on my own responsibility. Not a soul, not even myself, Mr. Editor, had the slightest hint or intimation of my article. I hold no brief for Bigelow church although I love it and I wish to offer no needless criticism of Rev. Bro. Connell, whom also I love. I feel sad over his disappointment, and hope and pray that he may rise above his seeming misfortune.

But it is an incorrect presentation of the appointive system of the Methodist Episcopal church, to speak of it as "the terrible grinding of the conference machine." I have been familiar with this system for 40 years and eight years of that time was accidentally, or providentially, whichever way one views it, under what is called "the settled pastorate system." Each system has some advantages and some disadvantages. No earthly thing can be perfect. But knowing both the "itinerant system" and the "settled pastorate system," by experience as well as observation, I unhesitatingly declare that the former is far preferable as a whole. By our plan every church always has a pastor, and every effective minister has an appointment of some kind. Many ministers of other denominations have expressed to me the wish that they had some plan like ours.

Of course some disappointments are inevitable. Where is the Methodist minister who has not at some time suffered in this way? But we know these hazards when we enter the itinerant connection, and are supposed to accept them submissively as God's doing, even though sometimes they may seem to us man's misdoing. Again, I cannot agree with my good brother that "an entire official board, if necessary, should be at conference for the express purpose of protecting an out-going pastor." I do feel that it is proper that they express an interest in his appointment. But if all official boards were to do what my dear brother suggests, results would be infinitely more unsatisfactory than now. One of the committee, who interceded with the bishop in Brother Connell's behalf, and whose services, I am sorry to say, he seems to depreciate, is the son of a Methodist minister and the brother of another Methodist minister, and is, therefore, surely well qualified for the work which he did.

Also, I testify that Dr. Magee used all legitimate influence to get the best appointment available for his client, and that the bishop and every district superintendent was sorry that nothing more could be done than was done for him. Brother Connell is only one of several worthy men who were sorely disappointed this year. It is always so. It is impossible to be otherwise. Everyman's claims have to be considered, and the interests of every church regarded. It is a case of give and take, bear and forbear, in which ministers must practice what they preach, in the words of St. Paul: "Look not every man upon his own things, but every man also upon the things of others."

But, again, as a brother Mason, I feel that Brother Connell errs when he cites what he deems their dereliction in his instance. Neither secret order nor politics, nor social position, nor any other extraneous influence should have any place in making conference appointments. In short, I believe that Brother Connell will see these things in this light, when he has time to recover from the sad disappointment which hundreds of other good men have likewise suffered in their time.

FIVE ADMIT AND SIX DENY GUILT

Eleven prisoners whose indictments by the grand jury were made public Saturday, were arraigned before Judge Thomas in common pleas court Monday morning. Five of them pleaded guilty, saving the county the expense of trials. The other six will go to trial. Seven of the eleven are negroes.

Gaither Bodenhamer, the Indiana man arrested at Sioux Falls, N. D., on a charge of forging his brother's name to a receipt for $75 out of his brother's savings account at the First National bank last March, entered a plea of guilty to that indictment. He was given an indeterminate sentence in the Ohio penitentiary.

Bodenhamer was indicted on three other charges, forging his brother's name to a $25 receipt, and two indictments charging him with passing the forged receipts. The former was continued off the docket, while the other two indictments were nolleed on motion of Prosecuting Attorney Micklethwait. Bodenhamer admitted to having served a five years sentence in the North Carolina penitentiary on a grand larceny charge.

Everett Roberts, colored, indicted on a charge of stealing a pair of gold cuff buttons from the residence of Dr. L. D. Allard on the night of July 19, pleaded not guilty. Attorney Willard Gustin was appointed to defend him at the trial, which will be held Wednesday morning.

William White, the negro who was charged with attempting to rob the Thomas Vaughters grocery at Eighteenth and Waller streets on August 28, pleaded guilty in the charge of assault with intent to rob. He also pleaded guilty to the indictment charging him with carrying concealed weapons. Judge Thomas sentenced him to an indeterminate term in the Ohio Reformatory. White's home is in Lexington, he said.

Arthur Clark, colored, was sentenced to the Ohio Reformatory upon his plea of guilty to the charge of shooting with intent to kill. Clark was arrested on the charge of shooting James Carter in this city two years ago. He hails from Pocahontas, Va.

A plea of not guilty was entered by Mack Brown, negro charged with burglarizing Jesse Marshall's saloon in the North End on the night of July 11. The trial was assigned for hearing Wednesday afternoon, and Attorney Arnold Schapiro appointed to defend him.

Charles Hill, white, of Sciotoville, pleaded guilty to two indictments, one charging him with shooting with intent to wound and the other of pointing fire arms. He admitted having shot at some men and boys swimming near his houseboat in the Ohio river, but said that he shot to frighten them. He claimed that he warned them several times not to appear in a nude condition in sight of his wife and step-daughter, but that they persisted in spite of his warning. Judge Thomas passed the case for sentence, and will make an investigation.

John Washington and Ollie Sanders, colored, accused of the robbery of John Smith on August 7, pleaded not guilty. They were indicted jointly and separately. Attorney N. B. Gilliland was appointed to defend them.

An indeterminate sentence in the Ohio penitentiary was meted out to William Rhimes, local negro, charged with stabbing Wade Melvin on September 15 last. The court reminded the prisoner of his numerous escapades in which his gun and knife figured before passing sentence.

Charles Beeler of Sciotoville, pleaded not guilty to the charge of cutting with intent to wound. He is charged with an assault with a knife on his foreman, W. H. Gladwell near Sciotoville on August 15 last. He was represented by Attorney George W. Sheppard.

The arraignment of Alex Gruber, the foreigner charged with carrying concealed weapons in the C. & O. Northern construction camp, was continued until he had time to advise with his counsel, Blair and Kimble.

8-HOUR LAW

City Solicitor Stanley McCall has just advised William Gergens, director of public service, that the new state eight-hour law is in force and that he had better govern himself accordingly.

The new law affects the local water works department and Mr. Gergens will arrange for employees to work eight hour shifts six days per week instead of seven as heretofore. The new order of things will not cripple the service any for there are times when the supply exceeds the consumption of water and the plant can shut down for a few hours several times in the week.

GERMAN FORCES CAPTURE VILNA

HUGE LOAN WON'T BUY WAR MUNITIONS; U. S. SYNDICATE WILL BE NATION WIDE

ALMOST SURROUND RUSSIAN ARMY

BONDS WILL TAKE FIRST PLACE AMONG ALL OTHER DEBTS

New York, Sept. 20.—The largest underwriting syndicate the Western world has ever known, was in process of formation today to handle the proposed "billion dollar" credit loan to Great Britain and France, which has now shrunk, it was reported, to a sum yet to be determined, between $500,000,000 and $800,000,000.

This mammoth syndicate, according to tentative arrangements said to have been agreed upon, will be nation-wide in its character and will comprise national and state banks and trust companies from the Atlantic to the Pacific. A number of so-called pro-German financiers, it was reported, will join the syndicate if it is finally agreed that the proceeds of the big loan shall be available only for commodity exports and not for munitions of war.

The price at which this syndicate will put out the British and French government bonds which will be issued to secure the loan will be put. The bonds will pay five percent interest and will be a first mortgage upon the entire British empire and France and her colonies. All other obligations of the two nations will be subordinated to the proposed big bond issue here. Even the staggering sums raised by bond issues at home, with which the war has been carried on, will come second to the loan to be floated here when the time comes to pay the principal.

For the first time in history, the English pound sterling has yielded first place in international finances to the American dollar in this respect. The whole big issue of bonds will be payable in American dollars, principal and interest.

For generations past, Great Britain's bonds have been payable only in sterling.

The bonds will run five years, or ten, it is not yet known which. In agreeing to have the issue handled by an underwriting syndicate the Anglo-French financial commission, whose errand here is to establish the loan, apparently has deferred to the views of American financiers, the original intention of the commission having been reported to provide for general subscription to the bonds without the underwriter as a middle man.

As soon as the definite terms of the proposed loan have been agreed upon in their entirety, bank and trust companies throughout the country, it is understood, will be invited by a general announcement, to become parties to the syndicate of underwriters. It is not yet known how many such banks will be asked—possibly as many as care to come in—but it is regarded as certain that the membership of the syndicate will consist of hundreds of institutions and possibly thousands.

These banks will be given a small profit to the transaction, somewhere in the neighborhood of one-half of one percent, it is believed.

ANGLO-FRENCH FINANCIAL COMMISSION SUCCEEDING DESPITE PRO-GERMAN EFFORTS

Despite the efforts of pro-Germans, the success of the Anglo-French financial commission now in the United States to arrange a huge war credit seems assured. The commission is headed by Baron Reading of England, and is composed of four English and two French members. These men are also believed to be acting for Russia.

CHICAGOANS GO TO CAMP

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Six hundred business and professional men from Chicago and other Middle-West cities laid aside their civilian clothes today for the uniform of the United States army. They started a month's course in military training at the training camp established at Fort Sheridan. The course will continue until October 17. The students are men from all ranks of life. The business world was the largest contributor, but there were many doctors, lawyers, engineers, school teachers and dentists among the "booties." Mayor William H. Thompson said he had planned to join the camp on Friday.

Colonel W. J. Nicholson, colonel of cavalry, commanding Fort Sheridan, is in charge of the camp.

STEAMER ABANDONED, CREW THOUGHT SAFE

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 20.—Officials of the marine awaited further word early today of the loss of the Greek steamer Athina, which was burned and abandoned in mid-ocean last night. The Athina sailed from New York last Thursday for the Piraeus, with a few passengers and a heavy cargo of general merchandise. News of the abandonment of the vessel came in radiograms late last night to the marine department from Captain McLean of the Anchor Line freighter Tuscunia, which had responded to the Athina's wireless call for assistance. Captain McLean's first message said that fire had broken out in the forward hold of the steamer and that he was standing by prepared to convey her to this port. Apparently the spread of the flames was rapid, for a short time afterward another brief message from the Tuscunia, relayed through the Cape Race wireless station said the Athina had been abandoned.

Nothing was said regarding the fate of the passengers and crew of the burned vessel, but marine officials were hopeful that all hands had been transferred safely to the Tuscunia, as the weather was fair and sea conditions were believed to be favorable. The Tuscunia is bound from Glasgow for New York, but it was thought possible she would bring the shipwrecked men to this port before proceeding to her destination.

13,000,000 ATTEND EXPO.

San Francisco, Sept. 20.—Attendance at the Panama-Pacific Exposition has reached the 13,000,000 mark, it was announced today. The average daily attendance since the exposition opened has been 61,311. The thirteenth million visited the exposition within the last two weeks.

ARCHIBALD BACK, TO GO TO CAPITAL

New York, Sept. 20.—James F. J. Archibald, the American correspondent, who was intercepted by British authorities while carrying a message from Dr. Constantin Dumba to the Austro-Hungarian ambassador in Vienna, arrived here today on the liner Rotterdam. Several secret service men boarded the Rotterdam to quarantine early today, immediately went to Archibald's stateroom and questioned him for some time. The secret service men are reported to have searched Archibald, his baggage and the stateroom, and to have taken away a cane belonging to the correspondent.

Archibald denied this and would not admit having even talked to the secret service men.

After having quarantined Archibald said: "I do not know anything about the situation here. If there is any contemplated prosecution of me, it is perfectly unjust."

"I took the letter which caused the trouble from Ambassador Dumba without knowledge of its contents and entirely unwillingly. That is all I care to say at present."

Archibald then said he would issue a long statement after landing. As he walked down the gang-plank, however, he met a man he described as his secretary. The man said he was Charles Mercer. Archibald and Mercer held a short conference and Archibald then announced he would defer the issuing of an additional statement. He said he expected to go to Washington soon, but other than that had no plans.

ITALIAN VOLCANOES ARE ACTIVE

SAYS RUSSIANS CAN MAKE SAFE RETREAT

London, Sept. 20.—Undiminished confidence in high military circles that the Russians will make a successful retreat from Vilna is reported by the Petrograd correspondent of the Times. The Germans, he says, are making most desperate efforts to hasten some of the remaining Russian armies before the withdrawal is completed but the heaviest transport trains and impediments are already beyond the danger zone and there is hope that the Russian forces will extricate themselves. It is important to bear in mind, the correspondent writes, that many meshes in the German net are composed not of infantry, but of comparatively weak cavalry units which will be destroyed unless quickly withdrawn.

Viewing the situation in the northern sector of operations as a whole, the correspondent says:

"It is noteworthy that German cavalry seized and cut the Vilna-Dvinsk line on the 12th, but though a whole week elapsed, we are still awaiting a decision, and though communications are cut to the Vilna group of forces the latter are able to conduct operations without any applicable lack of munitions, thanks to the enormous reserves carried by the Russian army."

CARRANZA OCCUPIES TORREON

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 20.—The occupation of Torreon by the Carranza forces under General Obregon, was underway today according to unofficial reports. It was said aeroplanes flew over the city in advance of the troop trains.

General Villa retired from the city yesterday, owing, it was said, to lack of provisions.

RUSSIANS HOLD OUT ON DVINSK FRONT

London, Sept. 20.—The Times today publishes the following dispatch from a correspondent with the Russian forces sent on Saturday from Dvinsk:

"I spent three days on this front, when a terrific battle is raging almost unceasingly. When attacks die away at one place, they begin instantly at another. The nearest front is only twelve miles from Dvinsk whose deserted streets resound with the detonations of heavy gunfire."

The Russians are holding the Dvinsk front in an excellent line of trenches three deep, and despite constant fierce attacks, supported by concentrations of heavy artillery they have held the enemy off thus far. Many times the first line has been taken by the enemy, then retaken by counter attacks. The Germans are twice, or thrice, our strength, and have enormous superiority in guns, as always, but hitherto they have gained no decisive advantage, each of their attempts being paid for with heavy loss of life.

"I find the morals of the Russian troops unimpaired. They are fighting in the same stubborn, determined manner, while the situation as regards the supply of ammunition and rifles is materially improved and the fate of Dvinsk and the whole line along the Dvinsk river is undecided."

"The capture of the city will be effected only by heavy sacrifices. In the meantime the town has been evacuated in the same orderly manner seen at Warsaw, and if the Russians ultimately leave, the Germans will occupy the same empty shell as in their victories."

BEGINS MOVEMENT TO SETTLE STRIKE

New York, Sept. 20.—Richard J. Butler, president of the New York District Council of the International Longshoremen's Association began today an effort to settle the strikes of freight handlers at the terminals of several railroad and steamship lines here. The United Fruit company's steamers, the West Shore, Lehigh Valley and Jersey Central railroads have been effected by the various strikes now in progress. Mr. Butler said he was planning to organize the 20,000 freight handlers here and hoped to bring about a wage agreement between them and the companies employing them.

Did Matty Make M'Graw's Reputation?

When Mathewson retired from the box in last Tuesday's game, he probably made Cincinnati a final farewell. Unless he is able to restore some of his former prowess to his arm, which at his age is doubtful, his retirement is inevitable. For the public will not care to see one of its idols knocked repeatedly from the pedestal which its admiration has erected. They prefer the memory of "Matty" the victorious to the actual presence of a "Matty" chased from the mound by hostile bats.

Now that Mathewson seems at the end of his career, it is appropriate to call attention to the fact that in all the years of McGraw's success as manager, he was able to build a team around a

ONLY ONE TY COBB

The complete record of Ty Cobb's ten years in major league baseball is a clear index of the wonderful ability of this diamond star. Cobb joined the Detroit club on August 25, 1905, and during the decade in which he has played for the Tigers has rolled up a grand batting average of .358 in 1,239 games. In this period Cobb went to bat 4,653 times making 1,729 hits and 575 runs. He also has 485 stolen bases to his credit, an average of .48 and a fraction a year.

Reds Beaten In Ninth By Braves

Cincinnati, Sept. 20.—Boston won the first game of the series from Cincinnati here Sunday 9 to 2.

It was a pitchers' battle, Rube Foster and Schmeider both working well, the former, however, having a shade the better of it. In the fifth inning, Rube Foster, who later scored on Maranville's error, and Schmeider's single. A base on balls and two singles in the sixth netted Boston two runs. Melvitz made a home run in the eighth tying the score. Gowdy singled in the ninth and Fitzpatrick ran for him. An out and Moran's double scored the winning run. The score:

The project was approved by the Elks lodge yesterday following the trip Thursday night to the Ironton Apple Show, says the Ashland Independent.

FIRE CHIEF GETS LETTER FROM E. J. SALT FORMERLY OF PORTSMOUTH

Fire Chief W. A. McQuat is in receipt of the following interesting and characteristic letter from E. J. Salt, a well known former Portsmouth citizen:

Columbus, O., Sept. 17, 1915.
Mr. William A. McQuat, Chief of the Portsmouth Fire Department, and all my old friends and the new ones too.

Dear Sir and Friend:
I feel that I know you, that I also know you as a friend because the interests you represent are so close to my heart that I feel the memories of the past link you together with the present associations.

In the language of the immortal bard I could say today: "Stop, oh Time, in thy rapid flight, make me but a child again tonight," and oh, how I look back on memory's picture as I read the pages of your beautiful "souvenir" book so truthfully and artistically told, remembering the bygone days, and I sing with you all tonight with a spirit of fervor, "Should auld acquaintance be forgot."

Years have passed, Chief McQuat, but the memories of past years when I lived with zealous energy in my intimate association with the department will live on forever until "taps" have sounded out and I reach the "central station" which I hope to reach at last in that beautiful "Sweet Bye and Bye."

I had not known you then but I want to know some day later on and talk to you personally and once more tell the story of my experience with "the brave boys" who defend our homes with the destroying element.

Tender though the memories they be, I still recall many of the lights and humorous side of incidents in the associations that made my connection with the department oftentimes bright and happy.

Chief, I know after so many years, you will remit the penalty but ask the boys the first opportunity yourself "Who turned in that alarm on East Fourth street at eleven o'clock one night," and if Jim Kirby knew anything about it, that was twenty-eight years ago but still Echo answers "Who turned in the alarm and forgot to turn the key out of the box?"

The fire was not there but the boys were there all right in double quick time, and do really say that they couldn't find E. J. Salt or Jim Kirby for a week afterwards, in fact, we were busy for several days and never went to see the boys for over a week or more.

You may inquire if you will who bought the two horses that would sit down whenever there was a call for an alarm to hitch them up." Echo again answers Frank Knauss, Jim Kirby and E. J. Salt.

Oh memory, what bright spots come upon the canvas, where life's picture was painted as I look at it tonight and smile in remembrance, the roses of life, if you please, whose fragrance of recollection will cast its perfume through coming years to come.

And again I turn the leaves of memory's pages and read the shadows, the hushed silence of voices stilled forever, the heroes of the fight whose lives had been given to duty; I hear the moan of that noble friend and faithful hero, George Gims, and it seems today as I looked upon his crushed features and dying heart throbs and then a noble life passed into the portals of the unknown, for in God's remembrance surely George Gims will reap his reward in that home beyond in the "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." And the others who gave their

INVESTMENT IS IN VAIN

Up to the present writing it has cost Charles Comiskey $285,000 in his efforts to "buy a pennant" and it looks as if the investment, as far as the 1915 season is concerned, is in vain. The best the White Sox can hope for now is second place, and even that is an almost barren hope with the Tigers and Red Sox breezing along like a 42-centimeter shell.

Comiskey paid $50,000 according to reports for Eddie Collins. He paid $5,000 or so for Outfielder Nemo Lubold and about $25,000 for Josephus Jackson. The outlay for Eddie Murphy, one of the Athletics, was $11,500 and a nice bundle for Happy Felsch.

BENNY KAUFF STILL LEADS

The leading batters of the Federal League who have played in at least half of the games are:

Kauff, Brooklyn .350; Magie, Brooklyn .342; Fischer, Chicago .337; Rouds, Newark .316; Campbell, Newark .315; Deal, St. Louis .311; Platte, Chicago .312; Kornetke, Pittsburgh .311; Kunworthy, Kansas City .307; Ballew, Buffalo .306. Brooklyn leads in club batting with .271 and Pittsburgh is second with .263. Kauff leads in stolen bases with 47; Magie, with 38, leads in total runs scored with 252 and Chase, Buffalo, leads in totals with 252 and in home runs with 17.

The pitchers in the "909" class are: McConnell, Chicago, 23 won, 9 lost; B. Allen, Pittsburgh, 21 and 40; Crandall, St. Louis 18 and 10; M. Brown, Chicago, 14 and 8; Anderson, Buffalo 17 and 10; Buelhaeh, Newark 17 and 10.

Rheumatism Easily Relieved By Cleansing the Blood

S. S. S. Gives Quick Relief by Toning Up the Blood

Yes, but how? A natural question. The answer is that you must cleanse your blood by stimulating it to healthy, vigorous action, so that it will throw off the germs and impurities that cause rheumatism. The action of the wonderful blood purifier, S. S. S., is to practically renew the life blood, give it vigor, stimulate the flow making it throw out the germs and the impurities. The excruciating pains of Rheumatism, whether it is the shooting, stabbing, searing, the gripping agony of muscular Rheumatism, or aching arms and legs that break up sleep will be entirely relieved by S. S. S. Don't use nostrums and drugs. Take the blood bath—Nature's blood tonic, S. S. S. Get it at any drug store, but insist upon S. S. S. Let us tell you about blood diseases. Send for booklet "What the Mirror Tells" or if you are in a peculiar case, write S. S. S. Co., Atlanta, Ga., but begin treatment at once.

DID THEIR BEST.

The three gentlemen who retired from office as county commissioners Saturday, Messrs. William Bennett, Daniel Egbert and J. J. Spencer, were certainly conscientious and honest in their efforts to give the people a good administration. In the years of their incumbency they accomplished much for the good of the county. They did not seek to localize improvements, but they were fair and impartial in the distribution of work, aiding many communities that had been entirely ignored by previous boards of commissioners. Above all, their administration was free from graft, free from the petty abuses that had grown up through long years of uninterrupted party domination.

The commissioners, in the past two years, had to contend with the many extraordinary emergencies that grew out of the great flood of 1913. In the handling of these they made mistakes, as any board was likely to have done. However, the commissioners were honest in their efforts to do what seemed best to them, and they gave the very best service they could. One of their greatest problems was the Scioto bridge project, and while there was some delay in getting that work started, it is now nearing completion, and all are agreed that the completed bridge will be a splendid monument. In other parts of the county the improvement of roads, coupled with unseasonable weather, which made traveling dangerous, has also caused annoyance. In addition to this the commissioners have had to contend with unfit contractors in some instances, and altogether their life has not been a bed of roses by any means. As time passes people will realize more the difficulties under which the retiring board of commissioners labored, and will also be able to form a better conclusion of the good work they have, in the main, accomplished for tax payers.

The new board members, Messrs. Charles Worley, George Hill and Thomas W. Watkins, are men of character and standing, and of considerable experience in business affairs. They have the opportunity to give a notable administration, one devoted to the interests of the taxpayers. We have faith that they will try to do this and will not follow in the footsteps of some previous boards.

CAGE THE GIRLS.

And now it seems that others besides the uplifter on the Columbus Dispatch are worrying about the snares and pitfalls that beset the pathway of the girl stenographer. Most noted and notable is a Mrs. Charlotte Smith, who made a speech at a meeting of uplifters in Boston, in which she advocated cages for stenographers. This leads the Baltimore Sun to observe:

A recent dispatch from Boston says that Mrs. Charlotte Smith in a speech demanded that girl stenographers be kept in wire cages while at work. The speaker is a member of the Women's Homestead Association, and the speech, which was regarded as notable, was made before the ladies of that distinguished body. "Just as soon as his stenographer enters the office," Mrs. Smith said, "her employer ogles her, draws out a box of candy and gets closer. I would have a law," this good lady continued, "that no man can have a female stenographer in his office without a wire cage surrounding her." We are forced to the conclusion from these remarks that Mr. Smith has a pretty stenographer.

Mrs. Smith leaves us in doubt on some things. Does she design the cage to keep the man out or to keep the girl in? Perhaps she would advocate a lock on the cage, the key thereof to be sent to the wife of the man outside the cage.

But when we come to think about it, is not Mrs. Smith rather insulting to the girl stenographer? As a rule, she can take care of herself, and some very happy marriages have resulted from the talk across the desk.

The Charleston Gazette sees nothing to worry about in the cage suggestion however. In fact the Gazette approves the idea and shows how it might work out in real life. It says:

"While Sister Smith probably takes herself seriously, her project may not be so disheartening, after all. You put a pretty stenographer in a gilded cage and you enhance her charm and her chances for matrimony at least one hundred per cent. Man is a peculiarly constructed animal. The girl in the cage would be 'set off' so, and would have such an atmosphere of the unattainable about her that his heart-strings would be tuned new whenever he entered the office. He would then have to slip the candy between the bars, and the whole performance would take on such an air of Romeo and Juliet romance that knighthood would flower again and chivalry return to relieve the deadening monotony of commercialism. We know several offices in Charleston, in which if the attraction of those offices were imprisoned with Underwoods we would beat our wings against the cage until we presented the appearance of the proverbial bird with a broken pinion."

"Doc Wiley and Doc Grover might vote in favor of the cages as being calculated to promote eugenic kissing, but if Love laughs at locksmiths it would simply chuckle in glee at perforated cages. However, Sister Smith might try one cage and see how it works."

But there is one stenographer in Portsmouth who righteously and wrathfully thinks that the uplifters should attend to their own affairs and leave the stenographers alone. She writes to The Times that she has worked in a number of offices and she has not found any of her employers languishing around, trying to make love to her and she is mighty sure that she has not tried to attract attention from any of them. It has been a business matter all the way through with her, and so has it been with those for whom she has worked. "If the idle women and men freaks would attend to their own affairs, I am sure the world would be better off," said this girl in closing her letter.

And maybe she is right. There are too many people in this country who seem to think that it is their divine mission to seek out and reform. If they can find genuine need of reform, all right. If not, they manufacture or imagine instances, and work themselves into spasms of emotional indignation, so as to attract attention.

THE POLICEMAN.

A Pittsburgh policeman arrested a minister on a charge of loitering, but the minister was enabled to prove the injustice of the charge and he received a public apology from the director of public safety. The policeman who made the arrest was suspended and only saved from dismissal by a plea of over-zealousness. This leads the Pittsburgh Post to comment interestingly upon the duties of policemen. The Post says:

"The policeman is not a despot, but a servant. There are bounds within which he must stay same as the public must keep within the law. When he goes beyond his authority he is a meddling and should be dealt with accordingly. It is a question whether the plea of 'over-zealousness' should be recognized at all. No matter how innocent of intent to do wrong the officer may be, this in no wise lessens the inconvenience or suffering his ignorance may cause. The police force is no place for a man who lets his zeal carry him beyond discretion."

Ironton has had her day in the lime-light and now she drops back into normal lines, picking up the threads of the every day life. This week it is Chillicothe's turn to shine, to parade her glad togs and to play host to the multitude. Next week it will be Jackson's turn. And then will come the premier of them all, our own Korn Carnival.

This calling upon contractors to make good public work which has not stood the two years' test is really something new and unheard of in Portsmouth. But it is a mighty good thing for the people who have to foot the bills. They are entitled to get in full measure what they pay for.

For some time we have been using occasional abstracts of articles on various diseases and their treatment. These are taken from the Journal of the American Medical Association, whose utterances are approved by the medical men of the country. Have you been reading the selections, and have you been interested in them? We are curious to know.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, says that for the first time since 1912 every freight car owned by his railroad company is in use. That is encouraging.

Your Health

Edited by John H. Landis, M. D., Health Officer of Cincinnati

Department of The Times Conducted in Co-operation with
Committee on Public Health Education,
Ohio State Medical Association.

Whooping cough is one of the most contagious diseases of childhood. With the death records before us it is difficult to understand the peculiar mental attitude of the general public towards this scourge of childhood.

Epidemics of typhoid fever, scarlet fever or diphtheria will create a panic in any locality in which they occur, but whooping cough is regarded as a mere incident that is bound to occur and that the sooner it occurs the better.

The records of the Cincinnati Health Department for the five years ending Dec. 31, 1915, showed that it is more deadly than typhoid fever in this city; that it causes about the same number of deaths as does scarlet fever and that it is only exceeded by measles and diphtheria as a destroyer of infant life.

Almost one-half of the deaths occur during the first year of life and practically all of them during the first five years.

It is a matter of universal observation among doctors that the younger the patient at the time of the attack, the greater the probability of a fatal result.

This furnishes a valuable hint

to parents to exercise every precaution to protect children from this disease until as late a period in childhood as possible.

The complications are what give the disease its deadly character. Pneumonia is the most important and announces its presence to a trained observer. Children without medical care are frequently seen by the physician for the first time a few hours before death, at a time when all chances of recovery have been thrown away.

After apparent recovery children should be kept under observation from six months to one year, for with the possible exception of measles no other disease is so frequently followed by tuberculosis.

The control of whooping cough is largely a matter of care on the part of the parents. Every case should be under a physician's care. Every case should be kept isolated until it has recovered. Taking a child with this disease into a school, picture show or other public place is an offense against the laws of Ohio and may be the direct means of carrying disease and death into some one's home.

New York, As Seen By Times Staff Reporter

BY GENE HARRISON

New York, Sept. 20.—Even Broadway appears shocked! The toll top stocking is responsible. Sweet young things are wearing their stockings rolled down to within an inch or two of the ankle. Dame Fashion issued the edict recently and daily it is being obeyed by increasing numbers of her devotees.

The last word in autumn fashions was brought over from Bordeaux this week. There is the Silhouette skirt, shorter and wider than ever; the high top boot with a dainty gold watch ticking its heart away as it rests on the left ankle of Milady's left foot; the Joffe wrap, a style of cloak that takes its name from France's war hero, and the high crowned hat perched down sharply over the eyes and a tilt at the rear of the coiffure.

With the skirts, higher or shorter, as you wish, will be worn hosiery of the gayest colors, even ultra violet rays, increased in high top boots.

Hand painted pigeons, live birds, probably will be a fad this winter if the birds can be had, so Fashion predicts.

The strange craze for astonishing pets has already popularized

the rabbit, the kitten, the monkey and even the alligator has found favor as a decorative appendage to be worn and carried in public. Last Easter a woman appeared on Fifth Avenue with a live canary imprisoned in a tulle cage on her hat. Since then pet mammals and other weird pets have found decorative shelter in the arms of modish women. Whether it be a desire to study natural history or to ornament herself with these symbols of the picturesque, the public is fast becoming accustomed to the strange lad. Though a bear cub, on leash, appeared last week dragging its mistress in breathless steps along Broadway, in the "white light district" it didn't attract enough attention to block ped traffic. It is predicted that squirrels and raccoons will be seen on leash when milady promenades a little later in the season.

Poker games with women card players are being run openly at Long Beach, "the Monte Carlo of Long Island" in defiance to the police. No effort is made to conceal. Stakes are high. Many of the games are mixed, women sitting in with men.

And along the board walk young girls and dancing men are being served with drinks certainly prohibited in Memphis if one is to take the legislature seriously. Roulette and "shootin' craps" are feeding the feminine craving for excitement as dainty fingers roll the dotted cubes down the green cloth, or bank the chips while the little ivory ball spins round the wheel. The authorities have been asked to stop the gambling, or at least, exclude femininity.

TEXAS SMITH IS TO DIE ON OCTOBER 19

Abraham Smith, alias "Texas," the negro captured here and convicted at Catlettsburg, Ky., for alleged murdering Joe Gibson, a C. & O. engineer, will have less than a month's stay on earth if the sentence of the court is carried out. Says the Huntington Herald-Dispatch:

Judge Halbert, of the Boyd county circuit court, fixed November 19 as the date for the electrocution of John Henry, alias "Black Texas," who was convicted of wilful murder with death as the penalty by a jury Friday evening.

"Black Texas" at the side of Jailer Sam Deboard and surrounded by a large crowd of spectators was leaning on the judge's bench when the sentence was passed. Asked if he could give any reason why he should not be condemned to death, the negro asked for a new trial but the court pointed out that the motion for new trial had been refused.

The negro nodded. He seemed little disturbed. He nodded again and thanked Judge Halbert when the latter fixed the date of the execution and instructed the jailer to deliver him into the hands of the warden of the Eddyville convict prison in Western Kentucky.

The Ashland Independent says: Smith will be taken to Eddyville just as soon as the necessary papers can be prepared, which will be Monday or Tuesday. He will be confined in the state prison there until November 19, when Judge Halbert will pass on the brief appealing from his refusal of a motion for a new trial this afternoon. If Judge Halbert declines to grant the request for an appeal to the upper court the date for the execution of the accused will then be set. This action is in conformity with the law.

Attorney E. Poe Harris, who was named by Judge Halbert to defend the negro, filed the motion for a new trial and will prepare the brief, holding that it is his duty to take such action to protect the interests of his client pending future developments. Mr. Poe declined to sign the motion for a new trial, saying that he felt his duty under the appointment of the law had been performed.

The motion for a new trial made by Attorney Harris was of the unusual nature. When the verdict was read the condemned man sat motionless, with the same set, unresponsive look upon his face which characterized him throughout the hearing. He spoke not a word en route back to jail, but sat on the bunk in his cell for over an hour apparently in deep thought. Later to Matron Deboard, of the jail, whose kindness and words of comfort have inspired many a prisoner to better deeds, he promised to read and study carefully the new testament which she gave him.

Sheriff Geiger and Jailer Deboard with the sanction of the court had arranged to spirit their prisoner to a port of safety had the verdict been other than what it was. An automobile and deputies were waiting to whisk "Black Texas" away immediately following the reading of the jury's verdict.

Alex. Calloway and William Bailey, the two negroes now in prison at Catlettsburg, who testified against "Black Texas," will be required to give bond for their appearance in court when wanted. This, if course, they will be unable to do. There was no evidence adduced at the hearing of "Black Texas" to connect them directly with the murder of Mr. Gibson.

It was reported this morning that Blue Steel was under arrest at Nolan, W. Va. The report, however, cannot be verified.

Mens Bible Class Plans Big Banquet

The Men's Fellowship Bible Class of the Second Presbyterian church will give a "get-together banquet" in the basement of the church, Tuesday evening, September 28, beginning promptly at 6:30 o'clock. This affair will be in the nature of a reception to the new minister, Rev. George P. Horst, as well as a testimonial to the teacher of the class, Attorney B. F. Kimble, whose untiring efforts have resulted in the class being built up to its splendid proportion. Mr. Kimble is one of the best bible students in the city and the sessions of the class are always enthusiastic, helpful and instructive. Invitations will be sent out within a short time and it is hoped to have not less than sixty percent. It is planned at the banquet to map out plans for the coming fall work and the affair is anxiously looked forward to by every member of the growing class. The following program will be rendered:

Three Young People Buried Under Debris of Wrecked Buggy

Misses Gladys Gasele and Mary Knauff, each 16 years of age, and John Jones, an Adams county farmer youth, narrowly escaped being killed in a West Side runaway accident Sunday afternoon.

The two West Side girls and their visitor had gone driving with his horse and buggy. Miss Knauff was driving when in dashing down the steep hill near Hygean Run the animal got beyond her control and in rounding a sharp curve near the bridge the buggy upset.

All three occupants were caught underneath and dragged quite a distance before Mark Lantz stopped the runaway horse. Soon quite a crowd was attracted and assisted in lifting the demolished buggy from off the young people, who were bleeding from cuts and bruises and their clothes torn into shreds. Miss Gasele appeared to be the worst hurt. Her arm was injured and she complained of internal pains. Miss Knauff had her foot badly hurt, while Jones was injured about the arm and side. Tom Wills removed the girls to their homes in a buggy, and a physician was called to attend Miss Gasele, who is a daughter of Frank Gasele, Miss Knauff is a daughter of William Knauff and a sister of Mrs. Elwood Lindsey, of the Sycamore & Sommer farm-place.

Both girls were reported bedfast Monday morning. The scene of the accident is where Capt. Fred Winter's big touring car, filled with bursters returning from an outing, went over a bridge, resulting in a number being badly hurt, a year ago.

The Movies

Kathlyn Williams and Five Reels of Pictures, Columbia Today. A most excellent program is offered at the Columbia today, the headliner of which is a thrilling three-reel wild animal picture featuring Kathlyn Williams, whom everybody remembers for her excellent work in "The Adventures of Kathlyn."

This great three-part picture is entitled "The Strange Case of Talmei Land," and was written by Miss Williams herself. The theme treats of the training of wild beasts, and the story is built around the life and experiences of a trainer, and the life of the daughter (Miss Williams) is strangely bound up with a pet lioness.

Another number of Paramount Travel Pictures and one reel of good comedy completes today's good program. Manager Tynes takes pleasure in announcing that Arthur Schreder, an expert pianist from Lexington, Ky., begins an unlimited engagement as pianist at the Columbia today, assisted by Otto Carpenter, as drummer and the patrons of the Columbia are insured the highest class music every day at the popular theatre.

Remember the reserved seat sale for "The Eternal City" opens today. Be sure and secure your seats for this great nine-reel masterpiece, which will be shown on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Only two shows each day, matinees at 2:00 and evenings at 8:00, and all seats reserved.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 20.—Captain John Male Martin, 59, for more than thirty years one of the best known steamboat men on the Ohio, Kanawha and Mississippi rivers is dead at his home here.

Depends on the Bank Roll. Hub—"Have you much shopping to do today?" Wife—"I don't know, dear. How much money have you?"—Boston Transcript.

Equally Useless. Faith without works is about as useless as a watch without wheels.

W. C. Ferguson Injured, Family Is In Peril, When Livery Team Runs Away

Notice To Owls

All Owls should be present at 8 o'clock, sharp, tonight (Monday), when an important business session is to be held. Korn, Karnival and street fair matters will be taken up for final action. Big social session and smoker after transaction of business.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ferguson of Court street and son, "Billy," grandson Jack Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frost Davis, of Fifth street, and guests, Mrs. Lizzie Winter of the Masonic Home in Louisville, Ky., and Miss Jane Ware of California, figured in a very exciting runaway accident, which took place near Fullerton, Ky., Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Ferguson was thrown from the surrey and was bruised about the shoulders and suffered a cut back of his left ear. The buggy was not overturned and Mr. Ferguson was the only member of the party thrown out.

Shortly after leaving Fullerton while on their way to Mt. Zion, Ky., to view the old home of Mrs. Winter and Miss Ware, the team of horses, which Mr. Ferguson secured from a livery barn in this city, began kicking and started to run off. After the team had run a short ways the tongue of the vehicle was broken off and the horses freed themselves from the buggy. They ran but a short distance when two men stopped them.

Mrs. Ferguson and guests were badly scared and it was some little time before they were able to continue the trip. Mrs. Winter is a cripple and has to get around on crutches. She suffered greatly from nervous shock.

After securing another team and surrey from John Morton's livery stable in Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson and guests were able to continue their trip to Mt. Zion. They had a thrilling experience as both horses kicked over the dash board several times and it is almost a miracle that cured from a livery barn in this city were not thrown out.

James Willis, a well-known young man of this city, narrowly escaped being thrown beneath the wheels of an N. & W. freight train as it was passing through Ironton at 11:50 Saturday night. Willis missed the step on one of the freight cars and was hurled to the ground, his body making several revolutions, according to eye-witnesses to the accident. Willis was taken to the office of Dr. Wm. Marting, where his injuries were dressed. He received a deep cut under the left eye his shoulders were bruised and he suffered a cut on the right side of his head.

AUTO GOES OVER BANK

A Ford automobile occupied by John Lynn, Jr., and Leslie Harwood, went over an embankment on the West Side road, just beyond the Lucasville bridge Sunday afternoon at four o'clock, precipitating both occupants out of the machine, which partly turned over. Neither of the young men were injured, while the damage to the automobile was slight.

Young Lynn was teaching Harwood to drive the car when the accident occurred. In trying to avoid a mud puddle at one side of the road, Harwood turned in too far, and the front wheel skidded on the grass over the small embankment.

Says England Wants A Lasting Peace

Paris, Sept. 20.—"We do not want a premature but a complete and lasting peace," said John Hodge, a member of the British parliament, in an address last night at a meeting of the French socialists. "We do not want conquests, but the liberation of all oppressed peoples."

"We are anxious to beat Germany," declared Mr. Hodge, "by voluntary service, but if the government says we have had the last man by the voluntary system, and must now have conscription, then I say we'll have it."

The meeting was the first of a series organized to explain to the French workers what England is doing in the war.

A Church Census. Two hundred and twenty thousand American churches served an audience for 170,000 clergymen during 1914. The congregations are estimated to have totaled 40,000,000.

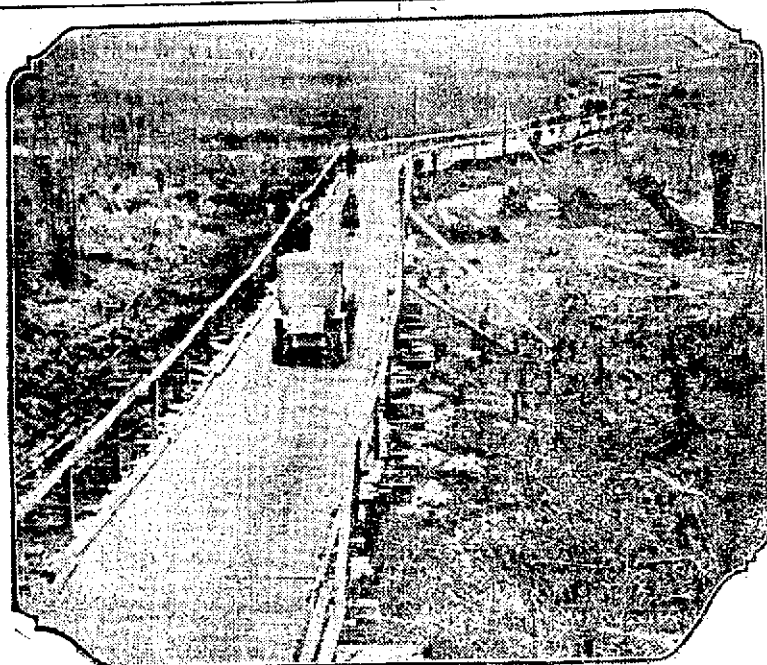

Saved by Preventive Medicine. One census report shows that preventive medicine and sanitation save one half million lives annually in the United States.

Optimistic Thought. Through difficulties we obtain freedom.

BUILD BIG CANNON TO USE AT EXPO

San Francisco, Sept. 20.—Construction of a cannon 150 long and six feet in diameter was begun today at the Panama-Pacific exposition under the supervision of the United States bureau of mines. The big gun is to be used in connection with the celebration of mining week which began today and will be used to demonstrate how mine dust explosions occur. The gun was loaded with coal dust which will be fired by the explosion of a small calibre cannon inside the big gun.

GERMANS BRIDGE HUGE PINK MARSHES IN PURSUING RUSS

German army bridge over marsh near Pinsk, Russia.

The long stretches of marsh and swamp land in the vicinity of Pinsk, which has just fallen into the hands of the Teutonic forces, was no hindrance in the pursuit of the retreating Russians. With the systematic order and ingenuity shown by the Germans, their engineering division took up the task of constructing the bridges over which their infantry, cavalry and artillery were moved with all dispatch in pursuit of the fleeing Muscovites. The photo gives an idea of the great difficulties the Germans are now experiencing in the Russian campaign. The bridge shown in the photo is several miles long and was constructed in thirty-six hours.

OPERATE ON TINKER

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Joseph B. Tinker, manager of the Chicago Federals, was to undergo an operation today to relieve a kidney ailment which has prevented him from playing ball since early in the season.
